

Contents

Preface

Mojmír Dočekal & Marcin Wągiel

v

Introduction

- 1 Number in natural language from a formal perspective
Marcin Wągiel & Mojmír Dočekal 3
- I Plurality, number and countability
 - 2 Conceptual representation of lexical and grammatical number: Evidence from SNARC and size congruity effect in the processing of Polish nouns
Piotr Gulowski & Joanna Błaszczak 29
 - 3 Strongly non-countable nouns: Strategies against individuality
Scott Grimm, Ellise Moon & Adam Richman 57
 - 4 Syntactic reduplication and plurality: On some properties of NPN subjects and objects in Polish and English
Wiktor Pskit 83
 - 5 Implications of the number semantics of NP objects for the interpretation of imperfective verbs in Polish
Dorota Klimek-Jankowska & Joanna Błaszczak 99
 - 6 The syntax of plural marking: The view from bare nouns in Wolof
Suzana Fong 129
 - 7 Uniqueness and maximality in German and Polish: A production experiment
Radek Šimík & Christoph Demian 149

II Collectivity, distributivity and cumulativity

- 8 Slavic derived collective nouns as spatial and social clusters
Marcin Wągiel 175
- 9 Conjunction particles and collective predication
Magdalena Roszkowski 207
- 10 Cumulation cross-linguistically
Nina Haslinger, Eva Rosina, Magdalena Roszkowski, Viola Schmitt & Valerie Wurm 219
- 11 Distinguishing belief objects
Nina Haslinger & Viola Schmitt 251

III Numerals and classifiers

- 12 Splitting atoms in natural language
Andreas Haida & Tue Trinh 277
- 13 Deconstructing base numerals: English and Polish 10, 100, and 1000
Heidi Klockmann 297
- 14 The architecture of complex cardinals in relation to numeral classifiers
Yuta Tatsumi 323
- 15 Even superlative modifiers
Flóra Lili Donáti & Yasutada Sudo 347
- 16 Classifiers make a difference: Kind interpretation and plurality in Hungarian
Brigitta R. Schvarcz & Borbála Nemes 369

IV Other quantifiers

- 17 Some, most, all in a visual world study
Barbara Tomaszewicz-Özakın 399

18 Group-denoting vs. counting: Against the scalar explanation of children's interpretation of 'some'
Katalin É. Kiss, Lilla Pintér & Tamás Zétényi	427
19 Two kinds of 'much' in Greek
Mina Giannoula	459
20 Final words
Mojmír Dočekal & Marcin Wągiel	481
Index	484