

I	A History of Viennese Furniture Design from Its Beginnings to 1960	13
1	Furniture design—a look back: from draftsman to designer	15
a	From handicraft to industrially manufactured furniture	15
b	The Arts and Crafts Movement and its influence on Vienna	17
2	Biedermeier—furniture artistry from Vienna	19
3	Bentwood furniture: Gebrüder Thonet and Jacob & Josef Kohn	21
a	Michael Thonet—the success of modern industrial design for furniture	21
b	World famous: Thonet's No. 14 chair	22
c	Jacob & Josef Kohn—creativity and innovation	22
4	Vienna 1900	25
a	Viennese Modernism—the phenomenon of the fin de siècle	25
b	Architects and artists as furniture designers	27
c	Wiener Werkstätte	28
d	Antagonist and critic of Jugendstil: Adolf Loos	30
e	Early product design from Vienna	32
5	From Bauhaus to International Style	35
a	The Bauhaus in Weimar, Dessau, and Berlin	35
b	Modern tubular steel furniture	36
c	Viennese architects and designers in Germany	38
d	Banished visions—from the Bauhaus to the US	41
6	Visionary Vienna—letting loose of Loos	43
a	New Viennese furniture of the 1920s and '30s	43
b	A new image of women: female architects as designers	50
c	Haus & Garten—rooms and furniture for the soul	56
d	Bauhaus in the middle of Vienna—the Singer & Dicker joint studio	70
e	The Wiener Werkbundsiedlung—the culmination of modern furniture design	79
f	The bentwood industry in the 1920s and '30s	88
7	Glamorous Art Deco and Viennese furniture in Paris	91
8	A fissure in time—1938 and the consequences for Viennese furniture design	94
9	The banished visionaries—from Vienna to the US	98
a	The emigration of Modernism	98
b	The early emigrants	100
c	Driven from Vienna—a forced new beginning in exile	107
d	Organic Style—the furniture forms of the 1950s	111
10	Furniture design of 1950s Vienna	115
11	Scandinavian furniture and Viennese furniture design in Sweden: Josef Frank	124
12	Bel Design from Italy	128
13	Industrially produced furniture in English exile	131
14	From Vienna to Palestine—furniture design for the newly created State of Israel	133
15	The intellectual message from Vienna	136

II	Furniture Designers— Biographies	143
----	-------------------------------------	-----

1	Oskar Strnad	144
2	Ella Briggs	148
3	Oskar Wlach	150
4	Ernst Lichtblau	152
5	Josef Frank	156
6	Paul Theodore Frankl	164
7	Walter Sobotka	166
8	Frederick Kiesler	168
9	Paul Engelmann	170
10	Richard Neutra	172
11	Ernst Freud	178
12	Liane Zimble	180
13	Jacques Groag	184
14	Felice Rix-Ueno	188
15	Felix Augenfeld	190
16	Ernst Schwadron	194
17	Franz Singer	198
18	Friedl Dicker	202
19	Bruno Pollak	206
20	Jacqueline Groag	210
21	Walter Loos	214
22	Anna Szabo	216
23	Dora Gad	218
24	Martin Eisler	220
25	Forgotten names	224

III	Interviews with Experts, Collectors, and Designers	231
1	Friedl Dicker & Franz Singer—Georg Schrom on the visionary joint studio	232
2	Five generations of design from Vienna—Maria Auböck on the Carl Auböck workshop	240
IV	Glimpses into Apartments, Houses, and Cafés	249
1	A house and garden for the soul—the Krasny house today	250
2	The house of a hundred steps—Villa Beer	260
3	Designer living room in a museum: Salonplafond	264
4	A journey in time back to the 1950s: Café Prückel	268
5	When time stands still: original furniture design from the 1950s	272
6	The Guesthouse Vienna—a brasserie with Viennese furniture design	276
7	A bohemian life above the rooftops of Vienna	280
8	Mid-Century Modern furniture design in an elegant palace	284
	Bibliography	290
	Illustration Credits	294
	About the Author	294
	Acknowledgments	295
	Publishing Information	296