

Table of Contents

Preface	VII
Introduction. A New Religious Ethos	1

Part I. Christ's Laughter: Visions, Docetism, Martyrdom

1. Myth into Metaphor: The Case of Prometheus	13
2. The Early Christian Fish Symbol Reconsidered	24
3. The Jewish and Christian Afterlives of Orphism	30
4. To See or not to See: On the Early History of the Visio Beatifica	52
5. Mystère juif et mystère chrétien: le mot et la chose	66
6. In illo loco : Paradise Lost in Early Christianity	78
7. Christ's Laughter: Docetic Origins Reconsidered	91
8. The Greek and Jewish Origins of Docetism (with Ronnie Goldstein)	109
9. Sacrifice and Martyrdom in the Roman Empire	126
10. Les martyrs chrétiens et l'inversion des émotions	137

Part II. A New Axial Age? Sacrifice, Intolerance, Manichaeism

11. The End of Sacrifice Revisited	151
12. Les sages sémitisés	163
13. Cultural Memory in Early Christianity: Clement of Alexandria on the History of Religions	176
14. Moses the Lawgiver: The Idea of Civil Religion in Patristic Thought	193
15. Axial Religion in the Late Antique Scriptural Galaxy	206
16. Christian Intolerance and its Roots	224
17. Titus of Bostra and Alexander of Lycopolis Against Manichaean Dualism	246
18. The Words and the Works: Augustine and Faustus	256
19. Anti-Manichaean Polemics: Late Antiquity to Islam (with Sarah Stroumsa)	267

Conclusion. Shapes of Time in the Abrahamic Religions: A Phenomenological Sketch	287
List of First Publications	301
Index of Selected Topics and Names	303