

Contents

Foreword: Ethical Approaches to Marketing – Positive Contributions to Society — V

Introduction — XI

Mike Marinetto

1 Apathy in the UK? The New Lifestyle Political Activism of Ethical Consumerism — 1

Miriam McGowan and Louise M. Hassan

2 The Usefulness of the Social Identity Approach to Social Marketing — 17

P. K. Noushad, S. Sreejesh and Justin Paul

3 Social Responsibility Communication of Corporates: A Consumer Marketing Perspective — 39

Lukas Parker, Linda Brennan, Sy Nurleyana Wafa, Nguyen Luu, Nhat Tram Phan-Le and Shinyi Chin

4 Ethical and Social Marketing in Asia: A Multi-Country Perspective — 59

Gerard Hastings

5 As the Planet and the Climate Breakdown the Last Thing We Need is More Marketing — 83

Amani Alsalem, Park Thaichon and Scott Weaven

6 What People Actually Know about Posthumous Organ Donation — 95

Anthony Samuel and Ken Peattie

7 Fairtrade Towns: A Community Based Social Marketing Perspective in Promoting Ethical Consumption — 117

Ekant Veer and Kseniia Zahrai

8 Wielded by a Different Hand: A Framework for Assessing the Ethicality of Social Marketing Behaviour Change Programs — 137

Erin Hurley, Timo Dietrich and Sharyn Rundle-Thiele

9 Blurred Minds Parent Program: Applying Marketing to Start Teenage Conversations — 149

Giuseppe Fattori

10 Social Media and Health Promotion — 167

Amy Yau

11 Chinese Consumers' Values and Perspectives of Sustainable Consumption — 189

Maedeh Ghorbanian Zolbin, Amir Faridhashemi and Carolyn Strong

12 The Passing of Time and Consumption Behavior of the Elderly in Three Countries: Differences and Similarities — 209

Concluding Comment — 225

About the Contributors — 227

Index — 233