

Table of contents

Introduction by the editors	9
1. Anti-Semitism – a problem for schools?	9
2. Compensation and Reparation Files	10
3. The Exhibition “We, The Six Million”	11
4. The Shoah – also a European topic?	14
5. Some thoughts on translation	16
 Christian Bremen: On working with the files	 19
1. The Biography	19
2. Historical context	21
3. Example: Aachen since imperial times	23
 Martina Gottlieb:
The Lives of Jewish Germans: A Project in Creative Writing	25
1. A historical topic, today’s students and an educational aim	25
2. The Biographies: Real lives of real people (from our region)	29
3. Creative Writing – an unusual method in historical studies?	31
4. Addressees and participants: The first project group	33
5. The role of group leaders and educators	35
6. Students’ products and school: A different look at “quality”	36
7. Time management: No rush please – we are looking for words!	38
8. Methods and material: Motivation, stimuli and guidelines	40
9. Publication of the products?	43
10. Our reflection of the writing process	44
11. A short bibliography: A completely incomplete reading list	47

Reinhold Breil: Philosophy as criticism of anti-Semitism	53
1. Lesson and project planning for secondary level II	53
2. Project assignments for secondary level II	58
3. Literature	59
Nervin Leineweber: Forms of remembrance – an art project	61
1. Art as commemorative culture	61
2. Project idea	62
3. Project procedure	63
4. Links
Reinhold Breil: The school project “We, The Six Million”	65
1. Basics of successful project work	65
2. The project	66
3. Conclusion	68
Teaching resources	69
1. Important terms	70
2. Rollups from the exhibition	72
3. Davin Schönberger: We, The Six Million Murdered People Speak . .	73
4. Hans Jonas	75
4.1 Reinhold Breil: Hans Jonas = philosophy as a way of life . . .	75
4.2 From the compensation file	82
5. Fred Voss	89
5.1 Frieda Kries: Fred Voss = A 92-year-old high school graduate .	89
5.2 From the compensation file	97
5.3 Fred Voss: To my Grandson	109
5.4 Links and sources	113

6.	Anna Weitzenkorn, née Leib	114
6.1	Christian Bremen: The Leib family from Aachen	114
6.2	From Walter Leib's compensation file	130
6.3	Marga Leib: A fairy tale	137
7.	Creative writing source	144
	"The culture of remembrance" – A project about the biographies of Jewish Germans	144
7.1	Four-liner / Stimulus: "culture of remembrance"	144
7.2	Hidden Name	144
7.3	RENGA (Japanese chain poem)	144
7.4	TIREUR LA LIGNE (stretching it out)	145
7.5	Every-day poem / a model	145
7.6	Variations of style – after Queneau	146
7.7	A Story of Possibilities
7.8	Poem with holes / with incomplete model poem:
7.9	Word exchange	149
7.10	Snowball poem / Avalanche of Words	150
7.11	Answer Poem	150
7.12	Tretjakov's Bag	152
7.13	ABCDarium of a writing workshop	152

Christian Bremen: We, the Six Million

153

–The Lives of Holocaust Victims and the Survivors
from the Rhineland. A Travelling Exhibition from RWTH Aachen University, Aachen, Germany 153

–The Exhibition 170

Indexes

224

1.	Text – and picture references	224
2.	Authors	224