

Table of Content

|                                                 |    |
|-------------------------------------------------|----|
| 1. Introduction.....                            | 21 |
| 1.1. Geographies of Belonging.....              | 23 |
| 1.2. A Story of Dualities .....                 | 24 |
| 1.2.1. Dual Foreignness .....                   | 25 |
| 1.2.2. Dual Belonging .....                     | 28 |
| 1.3. What lies Between .....                    | 30 |
| 2. The Question(s).....                         | 32 |
| 2.1. Limitations.....                           | 35 |
| 2.2. Relevance.....                             | 36 |
| 3. Research Design.....                         | 39 |
| 3.1. Ontology .....                             | 40 |
| 3.2. Epistemology .....                         | 42 |
| 3.3. Ethical considerations .....               | 43 |
| 3.4. Narratives .....                           | 44 |
| 3.5. Inviting Empathy .....                     | 46 |
| 4. State of the Art .....                       | 48 |
| 5. Theoretical Framework.....                   | 51 |
| 5.1. On Time.....                               | 51 |
| 5.1.1. Renegotiating History and Identity ..... | 57 |

|                                                     |     |
|-----------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 5.2. On Identity .....                              | 58  |
| 5.2.1. Stories we live by.....                      | 58  |
| 5.2.2. What cannot be said.....                     | 59  |
| 5.2.3. Collective Identity .....                    | 62  |
| 5.3. The Canon: On Transgenerational Trauma .....   | 64  |
| 5.3.1. Transmission within the Family .....         | 64  |
| 5.3.2. A sequence of collective traumatization..... | 66  |
| 5.3.3. Collective Dimensions .....                  | 69  |
| 6. Breaking the Canon: Interviews.....              | 72  |
| 6.1. Elena .....                                    | 73  |
| 6.2. Katharina.....                                 | 77  |
| 6.3. Sasha .....                                    | 82  |
| 6.4. Tanja .....                                    | 87  |
| 6.5. Alexej .....                                   | 90  |
| 6.6. Svetlana.....                                  | 95  |
| 7. Analysis.....                                    | 101 |
| 7.1. On Time.....                                   | 101 |
| 7.2. Languages of the Unsayable.....                | 112 |
| 7.2.1. Thematizing the Unsayable .....              | 112 |
| 7.2.2. Uncovering the Unsayable .....               | 114 |
| 7.2.3. Dualities.....                               | 114 |
| 7.2.4. (Not) Belonging .....                        | 117 |
| 7.2.5. (Not) Knowing .....                          | 123 |

7.2.6. Silence(s) .....125

7.2.7. The Unsayability of (Non)Belonging .....126

7.2.8. Metaphors.....126

7.3. Victimization.....134

8. Final Discussion .....141

8.1. Summary of Findings .....141

8.2. Implications .....145

8.3. Recommendations .....147

8.4. ...for no question is in isolation... .....148

9. Conclusion.....153

List of References .....156