

Contents

Tomáš Hoskovec

A history of sound, sign, and meaning: The Prague Centre perspective and prospect 9

Michael Ashby

A Prague School psycholinguist in London?

The life and career of Frieda Goldman-Eisler (1907–1982) 15

Markéta Vlková

Between science and art: The speech melodies of Leoš Janáček 25

Mária Gósy

On phonetic transcription: Achievements of creative minds 35

Angelika Braun

Leaving the ivory tower:

How real-life events have impacted phonetics throughout history 47

Jan Volín, Pavel Šturm

Honouring historical facts: The case of intonational downtrends 63

Jürgen Trouvain

Aerodynamic voicing constraint in stops:

From Wolfgang von Kempelen to John Ohala 75

Rüdiger Hoffmann, Dieter Mehnert

Roots of electronic speech communication in linguistics and engineering: The genesis of the chair of speech communication of the TU Dresden as a case study 83

Quintino Lopes, George Brock-Nannestad

Lacerda's chromographs (1930s–1950s): The circulation and appropriation of knowledge in Europe and the Americas 93

Author Index 105