

Contents

Introduction	13
Thesis	13
Prior Considerations	16
Methodology	23
Chapter 1: Status Quaestionis: On Identity, Modernity, and Postmodernity	27
1.1 What We Assume by Identity	27
1.1.1 Psychoanalysis Perspective	29
1.1.2 Psychosocial Perspective: Erik H. Erikson	31
1.1.3 Cognitive Psychological Perspective: Lawrence Kohlberg	40
1.1.4 Philosophical Perspective: Mary Warnock	44
1.1.4.1 Theory of Knowledge: Imagination	44
1.1.4.2 The Nature of Human Identity: Memory and Autobiography	49
1.1.5 Evaluation	56
1.2 On Modern and Postmodern Identity	60
1.2.1 Status of the Individual Identity: Bauman, Taylor, Lipovetsky	60
1.2.2 The Place of Weakness: M. P. Gallagher, N. Boyle	67
1.3 Conclusion	75
Chapter 2: The Role of Hope in Metz and Lynch's Theological Anthropology	81
2.1 Johann B. Metz: The Place of Hope in His Theological Anthropology	81
2.1.1 Mystical-Political Theology or Practically-Oriented Fundamental Theology	84

2.1.2 Theological Anthropology: Memory, Narratives, and Compassio in Hope	86
2.1.2.1 Human Beings and Creation: World, History, and Rationality in the World	87
2.1.2.2 Human Beings and Their Mystical Character: Rationality, Language, and Prayer	90
2.1.2.3 The Human Being and Others: Political Character of the Subject (Ethics of Compassio and the Homo Peccator)	100
2.2 William F. Lynch: Imagination as Grace to Go through the Human Valley	105
2.2.1 Christian Realism: A New Sensibility and Spirituality to Build the Human City	108
2.2.2 Anthropological Theology: Imagination to Go through the Human Valley	113
2.2.2.1 The Individual as a Hoping Being: On Hope, Hopelessness, and the Absolutizing Instinct	115
2.2.2.2 A Hopeful Sensibility: Imagination as Grace to Go Through	120
Chapter 3: Rethinking Identity in Hope	127
3.1 Hope Constitutes a Fundamental Element of a Vulnerable Human Being: Disposition to Trust and the Communitarian Dimension of Hope	127
3.1.1 Conversation with Metz and Lynch	127
3.1.1.1 On the Symptoms	127
3.1.1.2 On the Internal Process of Identity Devaluation	128
3.1.1.3 Pedagogy of Hope: Hope Sweet Hope	132
3.1.2 Contrast with the Results of Chapter One	134
3.2 Hope a Dynamism to Endure in Life (and History): Through Hopelessness to Hope	137

3.2.1 Conversation with Metz and Lynch	137
3.2.1.1 On Truth and its Relationship with Anamnestic Rationality: Unjust Suffering ...	137
3.2.1.2 On Just Suffering and its Value: Sensibility, Pathos and True Humanness	138
3.2.1.3 Hope as a Criterion of Discernment	139
3.2.2 Contrast with the Results of Chapter One	141
3.3 Hope Invites the Person to Integrate Time and History ..	142
3.3.1 Conversation with Metz and Lynch	142
3.3.2 Contrast with the Results of Chapter One	143
3.4 Balance and Conclusion	144
Epilogue: Images of Hope	151
i The Photo Album: Identity Is Memory and Autobiography	151
ii The Graft: Continuity in Discontinuity	153
iii R. Nadal vs. R. Federer: Friendship and Beauty in a Competitive World: The Ideal Desire in Hope	154
iv Patch Adams (Tom Shadyac, 1998): Doctor-Patient, Disposition toward Hope	156
v Madrid, January 5, 2016: “Mum, Gaspar’s Clothes Are Not Real”: The Energy within Imagination of Hope	158
vi The Spiral: In the Time of Aeschylus, One Never Goes Back to the Same Place: Time in the Inner Mentality of Hope	159
vii The Immune System: Epigenetic Creativity of Hope	161
viii Investment Plan: From the 2007 Crisis to the 2020 Crisis: Hope Means Human Nature and Society with Plans	162
ix The Glass of Water: Drop by Drop It Overflows until You Fully Perceive Grace	163
x Covid-19: #WeStopThisVirusTogether: Communitarian Responsibility of Hope	164

xi Joker (Todd Phillips, 2019): We Are a Society, Hope Is Not Faceless .. 166

xii Dangerous Memories, Rwanda 1994: “Do This in Memory of Me”: Hope, Unjustly Suffering, Incarnation, and Anamnestic Reason 168

xiii #BlackLivesMatter: Past as a Principle of Reconciliation if It Is a Source of Hope 169

xiv Mt 25: Feeding, Material Need and Hope Transfer 171

xv Saved by the Bell: On a Pilgrimage to the Xavier Castle: Hope Guides and Saves on the Way 172

xvi The Test of Gratitude: Take, Lord, and Receive from Ignatius of Loyola 173

Bibliography 177

List of Tables and Figures 185