Volume II: Hydrogen technology: innovation and applications

Series editor preface — VII

Volume editor: Marcel Van de Voorde — IX

List of contributors (for Volume II) — XXII

Paolo Ciambelli, Marcel Van de Voorde

Hydrogen: Present Accomplishments and Far-Reaching Promises — 1

Forewords

Louis Schlapbach

Foreword — 9

Alexander Wokaun

Foreword — 15

Extended Introductions

Pierre Etienne Franc

Hydrogen: why the times to scale have come — 29

Ad van Wijk

Hydrogen key to a carbon-free energy system — 43

Paula Abreu Marques, Ruud Kempener

The European hydrogen strategy — 105

Andreas Züttel

Introduction to the hydrogen books — 117

Václav Bartuška

Geopolitics of hydrogen — 127

Volume II: Hydrogen storage for sustainability

Romano Giglioli

1 Overview for hydrogen storage — 137

Barbara Thijs, Maarten Houlleberghs, Lander Hollevoet, Gino Heremans,
Jan Rongé, Johan A. Martens

2 Hydrogen fueling the future: introduction to hydrogen production and storage techniques — 159

Mieczysław Jurczyk, Marek Nowak

3 Materials overview for hydrogen storage — 195

Jean-Marc Bassat

4 Survey of SOFC cathode materials: an extended summary — 213

Ankur Jain, Shivani Agarwal, Takayuki Ichikawa

5 Ammonia: a promising candidate for hydrogen economy — 225

Tom Depover, Kim Verbeken

6 Hydrogen diffusion in metals: a topic requiring specific attention from the experimentalist — 247

Marek Nowak, Mieczysław Jurczyk

7 Nickel metal hydride batteries — 281

Zhao Zhang, Xianda Li, Omar Elkedim

8 Methods of preparing hydrogen storage materials — 303

Mieczysław Jurczyk, Marek Nowak

9 RE–Mg–Ni hydrogen storage alloys — 323

Dina Lanzi, Cosma Panzacchi, Christian Coti, Donatella Barbieri, Pierpaolo
Ferraro, Francesco Maria Augusto Ghidoni, Matteo Scapolo, Sara Vassallo

10 Hydrogen storage — 347

Felipe Rosa, Alfredo Iranzo

11 An overview of technological research needs for a successful hydrogen economy deployment — 375

Marcel Van de Voorde, Paolo Ciambelli

Conclusions and Recommendations: “The Future of Hydrogen” — 391

Index — 399
