

Inhalt

List of the tables and figures — 11

- 1 Why a book on inequality? — 1
 - 1.1 Introduction — 1
 - 1.2 Inequality – a multifaceted problem — 2
 - 1.3 Examples of causes for the rising inequalities — 7
 - 1.4 Overview of the book — 9
 - 1.5 Some limitations — 13
 - 1.6 A few concluding remarks — 14

- 2 Theoretical understanding and measurement of equality and inequality — 16
 - 2.1 Introduction — 16
 - 2.2 Key concepts with regard to justice and inequality — 17
 - 2.3 What to include when assessing inequality? — 19
 - 2.4 Types of inequality — 21
 - 2.5 How to measure inequality empirically? — 24
 - 2.6 Trickle-down economy – is this the way forward? — 30
 - 2.7 Concluding remarks — 31

- 3 Equalities in opportunities: Sen's perspective on justice, equality, and inequality — 33
 - 3.1 Introduction — 33
 - 3.2 The capability concept — 34
 - 3.3 Justice and inequality — 38
 - 3.4 Ex ante and ex post — 42
 - 3.5 Conclusion — 43

- 4 Economic inequality — 44
 - 4.1 Introduction — 44
 - 4.2 The development in inequality — 44
 - 4.3 A comparative analysis of inequality — 47
 - 4.4 Income for the highest earners — 52
 - 4.5 Some conclusions — 52

- 5 Gender inequality — 55
 - 5.1 Introduction — 55

5.2	Income inequality between men and women —	55
5.3	Inequality within health-care: an example —	62
5.4	Indexes of inequality between men and women —	63
5.5	Conclusion —	65
6	Inequality in health and health care —	66
6.1	Introduction —	66
6.2	Overall differences in health inequality —	67
6.3	Is access to health care and the quality of treatment equal? —	69
6.4	Do we know why there are differences? —	70
6.5	Conclusion —	74
7	Inequality in educational attainment —	75
7.1	Introduction —	75
7.2	Educational attainment: The variations —	76
7.3	Causes of inequalities in education —	80
7.4	Conclusion —	82
8	Inequalities in the labour market —	84
8.1	Introduction —	84
8.2	Inequalities in relation to employment —	85
8.3	Unemployment: Who is at risk and what is their living standard? —	90
8.4	Causes of unemployment, especially with a focus on technology —	92
8.5	Conclusion —	96
9	Ethnic inequality? —	98
9.1	Introduction —	98
9.2	Deserving or undeserving – is it objective? —	98
9.3	Example of inequalities related to ethnicity —	101
9.4	Conclusions —	106
10	Democratic inequality and happiness inequality and their impact on social cohesion —	108
10.1	Introduction —	108
10.2	Measuring democratic inequality —	108
10.3	Social cohesion and democratic inequality —	111

10.4	Inequality in happiness —	113
10.5	Conclusions —	115
11	Does the welfare state contribute to changes in the degree of inequality? —	116
11.1	Introduction —	116
11.2	Welfare states as piggy-bank —	117
11.3	Use of taxes and duties might result in a higher degree of equality —	118
11.4	The role of welfare states, especially in Europe —	120
11.5	Conclusions —	124
12	What can welfare states do to reduce inequality? —	125
12.1	Introduction —	125
12.2	Instruments available for welfare states —	126
12.2.1	Introduction —	126
12.2.2	Economic inequality —	128
12.2.3	Inequality in health —	130
12.2.4	Labour market and inequality —	131
12.2.5	Gender and ethnic inequality —	132
12.2.6	Educational inequality —	133
12.2.7	Well-being and happiness inequality —	133
12.2.8	Democratic inequality —	134
12.3	Can we measure what countries are doing? —	134
12.4	Basic income? —	136
12.5	Conclusions —	137
13	Concluding reflections —	138
13.1	Introduction —	138
13.2	Is inequality multidimensional? —	138
13.3	Instruments to reduce inequality —	141
13.4	Inequality and welfare regimes —	142
13.5	Conclusions —	143

Bibliography —	145
-----------------------	------------

Index —	162
----------------	------------