

Contents

Acknowledgements — IX

Introduction — XI

- 1 Vagus exul: Polynices and the Search for the Self — 1
 - 1.1 The Absent Self: Polynices — 1
 - 1.2 Theorising the Self: Reflexivity and the Search for Difference — 17
 - 1.3 Polynices and the Search for the Self — 22
 - 1.4 Mirroring the Self: Polynices at Thebes — 31
 - 1.5 Destroying the Self: The Construction of Identity — 35
 - 1.6 ecce iterum fratres: On Burying Polynices — 44
- 2 Identity Politics: Exploring Tyranny in the Thebaid — 47
 - 2.1 Exemplarity, persona and Identity — 47
 - 2.2 The Rhetorical Tyrant — 51
 - 2.3 Repetitive Tyranny: Problems with Being Evil — 58
 - 2.4 Dissimulation, Dissent and the Disarming of Tyranny — 85
 - 2.5 More Dissenting Voices: Suicide as Political Opposition or Erasure of Identity? — 91
 - 2.6 Elegiac Enervation and the Love-Sick Tyrant — 110
 - 2.7 Reading Statius' Tyrants in the Roman World — 117
- 3 Nil ego: Oedipus, Theseus and Poetic Identity — 121
 - 3.1 An Excessive Identity: Oedipus as Over-Determined Hero — 123
 - 3.2 Appearances Matter: Fury as ecphrasis — 131
 - 3.3 Role Reversal and Literary History: Oedipus and Tantalus — 141
 - 3.4 Emerging from the Darkness — 146
 - 3.5 Emicuit per mille foramina sanguis impius: Theseus as Political Alternative — 151
- 4 Unde iubetis ire, deae? Statius and Poetic Identity — 164
 - 4.1 Dead Wood: Encoding Authorial Identity — 171
 - 4.2 Muddying the Waters: Identity and persona in and around Thebes — 179
 - 4.3 Amphion's Walls: Constructing the Poet — 183
 - 4.4 A Confused House: Oedipal Models in the Proem — 196
 - 4.5 meriti post me referentur honores: Poet and Poem in the sphragis — 203

5	Afterword? Per te poeta fui: Dante's Statius and the Re-Writing of Literary History — 214
5.1	Climbing the Mountain again: Statius in Purgatory — 215
5.2	conosco i segni : Statius the Poet in Dante's Commedia — 218
5.3	The Road to Emmaus: Different Patterns of Following — 230
5.4	Vernacular and Latin Traditions and the Notion of Renaissance Succession — 234
5.5	uestigia semper adora : Reading Statius Reading Virgil through Reading Dante — 236
	Bibliography — 239
	Index Rerum et Nominum — 255
	Index of Sources — 261