

PART I: Inhabiting the "Camp"

-
- 24 In, Out, and Beyond the Camp
Samah Al Jundi-Pfaff
- 36 Reversals: The University and the Camp
Anooradha Iyer Siddiqi
- 47 Architecture on the Move: (Re)Creating a Place in a Displaced World
Irit Katz
- 60 Madafah: Who is Hosting Whom?
The Everyday of Za'atri Refugee Camp and the Architectural Encounter
Aya Musmar
- 75 Between Securitization, Appropriation, and the Right to Dwell:
A Multiscalar Analysis of Azraq Camp
Ayham Dalal, Petra Heber, and Leticia Palomino

PART II: Inhabiting the "City"

-
- 92 Interview with Gregor Brune, a Practicing Architect
by Shahd Seethaler-Wari
- 104 Inhabiting Refugee Accommodations:
A Comparison of Two Temporarily Transformed Buildings
Shahd Seethaler-Wari
- 131 Between Inhabitation and Dwelling: (Im)mobilities in Everyday Life
Maja Momić
- 145 Architecture and Beyond: In/formal Spaces of Urban Refuge – Berlin
Nassim Mehran
- 160 Displacement, Arrival, and Housing:
The Case of Leipzig (Germany) and Mocoa (Colombia)
Lina Sánchez Steiner
- 176 Architectures of Displacement:
On the Aesthetics and Politics of Humanitarian Shelter
Romola Sanyal

Epilogue

-
- 192 Inhabitation: A Story of Return
Somayeh Chitchian

196

List of Contributors