

CONTENTS

1 Introduction	1
Notes	7

Part I Propaganda and Journalism

2 Student and Soldier in the Weimar Republic and Nazi Germany	13
School, University, Marriage	14
A Corporal at Army Headquarters	23
Howling with the Wolves	29
Notes	40
3 Survival	53
Happy Like a Fish Swimming Through the Fighting	54
The July 20, 1944 Coup Attempt and Christa's Arrest	62
A Last Second Escape	65
Notes	69
4 Journalist at the Northwest German Radio Station	75
Zahn's Early Broadcasts	79
Networks and Political Reorientations	85
Attacks from the Left and the Right	90

A New Assignment	96
Notes	100

Part II Networks and Contexts

5 Public Audiences and Official Networks	113
Transmission Methods, Funding Sources, and Broadcast Themes	115
Official Networks	118
Zahn and American Audiences	130
Notes	134
6 Critical Images of the United States in the Federal Republic	141
Critiques of Liberal Democracy and the United States in the Interwar and Nazi Periods	145
Fears of Mass Society and Anti-Americanism in West Germany	152
Historians and Anti-Americanism in the Federal Republic	156
Notes	160

Part III Peter von Zahn's America

7 Tradition and Modernity in American Culture and Society	171
American Communities: "A Bit Like Returning Home to the Good Old Times"	173
Education, Religion, and the Arts	180
Business Methods and Workers' Rights	184
Notes	192
8 American Public Opinion: Optimistic but Often Ignorant	197
The Power of Money and the Role of the Press	197
Optimism, Moralism, and Isolationism	200
Ethnic Loyalties and Antipathies	204
Notes	211

9	A Weak Executive, an Irresponsible Congress, and a Courageous Judiciary	215
	President Eisenhower and American Foreign Policy: "Making the Cold War Comfortable"	215
	The American Congress: Limited, Petty, and Quarrelsome	223
	McCarthyism	226
	The Federal Judiciary	231
	Notes	233
10	From Understanding to Indignation: Zahn on American Racism and the Civil Rights Movement	239
	African-American Civil Rights in the Eisenhower Era	243
	A Hopeful and Apologetic View of American Race Relations	246
	"It is of the greatest significance that the Negroes of Montgomery are not inclined in the direction of Communism"	251
	Ethnic Hierarchies	259
	Notes	263
 Part IV Receptions
11	Audience Responses	271
	An Audience of Millions	271
	Reactions to Zahn's Broadcasts	277
	Zahn's Mailbox	281
	Notes	287
12	A Difficult Return to West Germany	293
	An International Documentary Film Production Company	294
	Return to Germany	300
	Crafting an Autobiography	306
	Is America Leaving Us?	310
	Notes	314
13	Conclusion	321
	Notes	325
	Index	327