

Contents

Photography, First and Foremost 9

Hrvoje Klasić

'You're Taking Pictures, While We're Being Killed!'

On Materiality, Art, and the Civil Contract of the Partisan Photo Archive 15

Sanja Horvatinčić

1. Introduction 25

2. The Battleground of Representation: From the Paris Commune to Nazism 33

3. The Social Contexts of Photography and Its Development

between the Two World Wars 39

4. The Red Glow of Partisan Photography 45

The Early Days of Partisan Photography

The First Partisan Exhibitions

Sic Transit Gloria Mundi: An Actor and a Ballet Dancer as Partisan Photographers

The First Group of Cultural Workers in Occupied Europe

Franjo Mosinger's Photo Diary

Female Photographers in the Partisan Movement

Gattin and Bernstein: A Dalmatian Photographer and an American Journalist

Dalmatia, Slavonia, Bosnia, Serbia, Slovenia ...

5. Photography and Propaganda 107

The Consolidation of Agitation and Propaganda Work

Enemy Propaganda

Founding the New Yugoslavia's Telegraph Agency

On Propaganda's Impossibilities

6. Partisan Photography's Revolutionary Perspective 139

7. Iconic Photographs 153

8. Intelligence Uses of Photography and Trophy Photos of Atrocities 167

9. Photo Archive: The Themes and Subject Matter of Partisan Photography 195

Photographs of Partisan Life
Partisans at Rest
Beneath the Cross
People and Animals
Children
Wartime Civilian Life
Partisans and the People
Liberated Territory
Rallies
Graffiti
Religious Freedom
Partisan Funerals
Workshops, Schools, Printing Presses, Institutes
Cultural Workers and Cultural Production
Political Leaders
Representing Josip Broz Tito
Photographs of Partisan Women
In Combat
Photographs of Solidarity and Partisan Hospitals
Military Successes
Photographs of Defeated Enemy Forces
Exhibitions and News Board Displays
Colour Photographs and News Boards
Liberation
Working with the Allies
Studio Photography after Partisan Victory
Private Photographs

10. Conclusion 396

List of Partisan Photographers
Bibliography