

Contents

Chapter 1: Introduction — 1

Chapter 2: Adaptive Accumulation: Public Objectives, Private Revenues — 7

Chapter 3: The Military and Adaptive Accumulation — 18

- 3.1 Defense Policy as Public Policy — 19
- 3.2 Peace Dividends: Do More with Less (or More?) — 21
- 3.3 Transforming Power Projection Abroad — 23
- 3.4 On the Homefront: Utilities and Housing — 29
 - 3.4.1 Utilities — 30
 - 3.4.2 Housing — 33
- 3.5 Conclusion — 38

Chapter 4: Health, Healthcare, and Adaptive Accumulation — 39

- 4.1 US Health Reform Through the Twentieth Century — 40
- 4.2 Adapting the Component Parts of US Healthcare — 43
 - 4.2.1 Transforming Medicare — 44
 - 4.2.2 Drugs, US Seniors, and Medicare — 50
 - 4.2.3 The Affordable Care Act — 54
- 4.3 Conclusion: The Future of US Health — 60

Chapter 5: Education Reform and Adaptive Accumulation — 65

- 5.1 Education as Crisis — 66
- 5.2 Mining Public Schools — 68
- 5.3 Governmental Market Makers — 78
- 5.4 Education and the Culture of Choice — 85
- 5.5 Conclusion — 89

Chapter 6: Incarceration, Detention, and Adaptive Accumulation — 91

- 6.1 The Neo-conservative Turn and 'Law and Order' — 92
- 6.2 Corporate Strategies in Incarceration and Detainment — 95
- 6.3 Government, Public Policy, and Incarceration — 103
- 6.4 Politico-Cultural Undercurrents: Conditioning Incarceration — 113
- 6.5 Conclusion — 118

Chapter 7: Conclusion—Moving Forward in America — 120

VI — Contents

References — 127

Index — 143