

Contents

Preface.....	xix
Contributors.....	xx
Section I Bricks and Mortar.....	1
1 To Rent or to Buy: That Is the Question.....	2
Jill Waibel, Jusleen Ahluwalia, and Chloe Gianatasio
1.1 Twelve Years of Education and Yet .. 2	1.5 Constant Vigilance: The Pros and Cons of Leasing Office Space 4
1.2 Location, Location, Location 3
1.3 Buying versus Leasing 101..... 3	1.6 City Mouse, Country Mouse 6
1.4 Are You Ready for Commitment? The Pros and Cons of Purchasing Office Space 3	1.7 There's a Perfect Match for Everyone 6
	1.8 Office Configuration 6
2 Location.....	8
Keith LeBlanc, Jr.
3 How Much Space Do I Need?.....	13
Camile A. Silva and Chad L. Prather
3.1 Introduction..... 13	3.4 Spatial Configurations and Design Organizational Patterns..... 15
3.2 Number of Providers and Workflow 14	3.5 Clinical and Support Areas Needed ... 18
3.3 Service Type..... 14	3.6 Program and Area Requirements Calculations 19
4 Creating a Business Plan.....	26
Deirdre Hooper and Sarah Jackson
4.1 Introduction..... 26	4.4 Dos and Don'ts..... 33
4.2 Creating Your Business Plan 27	4.5 Conclusion..... 33
4.3 Obtaining Financing 30
5 Room Layout.....	35
Jessica Awerman and Rajiv Nijhawan
5.1 Introduction..... 35	5.4 Other Important Considerations ... 40
5.2 Where Do I Start? 35	5.5 Potential Pitfalls 41
5.3 Elements of the Room Layout..... 36	5.6 Conclusion 41

6	Office Flow				43
	Kavita Mariwalla
6.1	Introduction	43	6.4	Check-out	48
6.2	Check-in	43	6.5	Conclusion	49
6.3	Rooming	46
7	Creating a Practice Ambience				50
	Annie Chiu
7.1	Introduction	50	7.2	Creating a Welcome Area	51
8	Photography and Space Requirements for Everyday and Clinical Trials				54
	Neal Bhatia
8.1	Introduction	54	8.5	The Camera: Compression, Focus, and Resolution	57
8.2	The Consent Process	55	8.6	Storage and Transmission	57
8.3	The Office Setup	55	8.7	Conclusion	57
8.4	Positioning the Patient and Framing the Photograph	56
9	Corporate Structure: Limited Liability and Taxation				59
	James D. Kelso
9.1	What Does Corporate Structure Mean?	59	9.3	Corporations and Medicine: The Prohibition of Corporate Practice of Medicine	62
9.2	Selecting a Corporate Structure	61	9.4	Conclusion	63
10	Academic versus Private Practice				64
	Nazanin Saedi and Kenneth A. Arndt
10.1	Academic	64	10.2	Private Practice: Solo, Dermatology Group, Medical/Surgical Group	65
11	Managing the Telecom and IT of Your Business: The Central Nervous System of a Medical Practice				68
	Daniel I. Wasserman and David A. Rubin
11.1	Introduction	68	11.6	The Buildout	70
11.2	Hire an IT Consultant	69	11.7	Establish Service Contracts	71
11.3	Reserve a Domain Name and Corporate Email Account	69	11.8	Business Associate Agreement	72
11.4	Establish a Physical Service Address	70	11.9	Hardware	72
11.5	Reserve Phone and Fax	70	11.10	Cyber Security	73
			11.11	Conclusion	73

12	Choosing and Implementing an Electronic Medical Record System.....	74
	Robin Travers
12.1	Introduction.....	74
12.2	Step One: Set a Tone.....	75
12.3	Step Two: Create a Multidisciplinary Implementation Team.....	76
12.4	Step Three: Choose the Software... ..	77
12.5	Step Four: Configure Your Software.....	77
12.6	Step Five: Identify Hardware and Personnel Needs.....	77
12.7	Step Six: Transfer Data.....	78
12.8	Step Seven: Decide on the Launch Approach.....	78
12.9	Step Eight: Develop Disaster Protocols.....	79
12.10	Step Nine: Initiate Your Training Plan.....	79
12.11	Step Ten: Enhance EMR-related Communication Skills.....	80
12.12	Conclusion.....	80
13	Private Equity and Venture Capital-Backed Practice Models.....	82
	Editor's Note.....	82
	Jeffrey S. Dover and Kavita Mariwalla
13.1	Part A: The Corporatization of Dermatology.....	83
	Joseph K. Francis
13.2	Part B: Testimonials from Dermatologists Regarding PE-Backed Practices.....	88
	Sailesh Konda
13.3	Part C: Selling a Practice: The Viewpoint from Someone Who Sold.....	92
	Edward (Ted) Lain
Section II	Human Resources.....	97
14	Essential Components of an Employee Manual.....	98
	Cynthia Forbush
14.1	Introduction.....	98
14.2	Step One: Why Are You Doing This?.....	100
14.3	Step Two: Who Are You?.....	100
14.4	Step Three: Gather Your Policies... ..	100
14.5	Step Four: Choosing a Template... ..	101
14.6	Step Five: Creating a Welcome Message.....	101
14.7	Step Six: Table of Contents.....	101
14.8	Step Seven: Handbook Topic Selection.....	101
14.9	Step Eight: You're Done!.....	103
14.10	Step Nine: Updates.....	103
15	Vision and Mission Statement.....	104
	Heather Hamilton and Jeffrey S. Dover
15.1	Introduction.....	104
15.2	What Are Vision and Mission Statements?.....	104
15.3	Why Do You Need a Vision and/or Mission Statement?.....	105

15.4	How Do You Write a Vision Statement?	105	15.7	Examples of Mission Statements . . .	106
15.5	Examples of Vision Statements.	105	15.8	Should a Mission Statement Change with Time?	106
15.6	How Do You Write a Mission Statement?	105	15.9	Conclusion	106
16	Employees versus Independent Contractors	107
	George J. Hruza, Gabriel J. Martinez-Diaz, Kyle Kieffer, and Briana Paiewonsky
16.1	Introduction.	108	16.4	Step Three: Once You Have Decided on Your Preferred Employment Model, What Are the Next Steps? ..	111
16.2	Step One: What Exactly Is an Independent Contractor?	108	16.5	Conclusion	113
16.3	Step Two: Deciding If Becoming an Independent Contractor Is the Right Step for You.	109
17	Salaried versus Hourly Wage: Which Is Better and for What Positions?	114
	Murad Alam
17.1	Introduction.	114	17.4	When Hourly Is Better	116
17.2	The Hourly Worker	114	17.5	When Salaried Is Better	116
17.3	The Salaried Worker.	115	17.6	Incentives, Emotions, and Unintended Consequences	116
18	The Practice Administrator	117
	Christine E. Foley
18.1	What to Consider When Assessing the Need for a Practice Administrator	117	18.2	Conclusion	120
19	A Primer on Employment Law for Dermatology Practices	121
	David B. Chaffin
19.1	Introduction.	122	19.4	Termination	126
19.2	The Hiring Process	122	19.5	Conclusion	126
19.3	The Day-to-Day of Employment	124
20	Essential Policies	127
	Brooke A. Jackson
20.1	Introduction.	127	20.6	Gifts.	131
20.2	Essential Staff/Employee Policies	128	20.7	Visitors	132
20.3	Dress Code, Grooming, and Appearance	128	20.8	Arbitration Policy and Agreement ..	132
20.4	Safety	130	20.9	Safety, Security, and Avoiding Theft	133
20.5	Computers, Electronic Mail, Electronic Record, and Voice Mail Usage Policy.	130	20.10	Account Security	133
			20.11	Policy on Handling Cash.	133

21	Questions to Ask When Bringing on a Physician	134
	Kim Campbell
21.1	Introduction	135	21.6	Step Four: Bringing on the Successful Physician
21.2	Where Should You Start When Expanding Your Practice?	136	21.7	Interview To-Do List
21.3	Step One: Plan Requirements for Onboarding a Physician	136	21.8	Questions to Ask and Questions to Avoid
21.4	Step Two: Searching for a Physician	136	21.9	Breaking Down the Benefits
21.5	Step Three: Getting to Know Potential Physicians	137	21.10	Do You Feel a Connection?
			21.11	Conclusion
22	Designing Your Cosmetic Dermatology Practice for Maximum Efficiency: A Case Study	140
	Aleksandra Lindgren and Kathleen M. Welsh
22.1	Your Vision, Your Mission	140	22.6	The Treatment Plan
22.2	Building Your Dream Team	140	22.7	Scheduling
22.3	Office Design	141	22.8	Efficient Marketing
22.4	Who Do You Serve?	141	22.9	Efficient Ordering and Inventory ...
22.5	Day-to-Day Strategies	142	22.10	Improving Systems
	Section III Patient Relations	145
23	“It Depends”: No-show Fees, Cancellation Policies, and Deposits for Procedures	146
	Sara Hogan, Omer Ibrahim, and Jeffrey S. Dover
23.1	Introduction	147	23.4	Prepayments and Deposits on Procedures
23.2	Why Do Patients No-show for Appointments?	147	23.5	Reducing No-Shows
23.3	The Anatomy of a No-Show Fee	148	23.6	Conclusion
24	Reminder Calls/Texts: Implementing an Effective Appointment Reminder System	153
	Reena Jogi
24.1	The Cost of Missed Appointments ..	153	24.3	Not All Reminders Are Created Equal
24.2	Increasing Attendance with Appointment Reminders	154	24.4	Conclusion
25	Is There a Better Way to Answer Calls?	159
	Amy Derick
25.1	Introduction	159	25.3	Conclusion
25.2	Minimizing Calls	160

26	Critical Components of Consents and Documentation	164
	Misha Zarbafian and David J. Goldberg
26.1	The Legal Landscape in Dermatology	165
26.2	Informed Consent	165
26.3	Negligence and the Standard of Care	166
27	Patient Portals and Communication in the Age of EMR	173
	Girish S. Munavalli
27.1	Introduction	173
27.2	Portals and Communication	175
28	Teledermatology Ground Rules	179
	Curtis Asbury
28.1	Introduction	179
28.2	Rule One: Add Teledermatology to Add Value	180
28.3	Rule Two: Pick the Right Platform(s) to Use	180
28.4	Rule Three: You Gotta Get Paid	181
28.5	Rule Four: Teledermatology Can Work Well	181
28.6	Rule Five: ...But Not Always	181
28.7	Conclusion	182
29	Risk Management	183
	Abel Torres and Colton Nielson
29.1	Introduction	183
29.2	Techniques for Risk Management	184
29.3	Measures for Mitigating Consequences of an Adverse Event	186
30	The Ideal Schedule	192
	Mona A. Gohara
30.1	Introduction	192
30.2	The Schedule Pundits	193
31	Delegating: Physician Extenders and Integration into a Practice	198
	Kavita Mariwalla
31.1	Introduction	198
31.2	What Is an “Extender”?	198
30.3	Closing Thoughts	197
31.3	Question One: Wait Time	199
31.4	Question Two: Your Personality	200
Section IV	The Daily Grind	191

31.5	Interview Red Flags	201	31.8	Question Five: Changing Your Office Flow	202
31.6	Question Three: New Grad versus Experienced Extender	201	31.9	Delegating to Your Extender	202
31.7	Question Four: Supervision	201	31.10	Pay	202
			31.11	Conclusion	203
32	Managing Expectations of Staff	204
	Laura Kruter
32.1	Introduction	204	32.3	Section Two Objectives	205
32.2	Section One Objectives	204	32.4	A Note on Managing Burnout	207
33	Pricing Cosmetic Procedures	208
	Omer Ibrahim, Michael S. Kaminer, and Jeffrey S. Dover
33.1	Introduction	208	33.4	Pricing Your Procedures	211
33.2	Commodity versus Luxury	209	33.5	How Expensive Should I Be? Price Matching and Discounting	211
33.3	Recognize Your Worth and Make It Known	210	33.6	Conclusion	212
34	Integrating Cosmeceuticals into Daily Practice	213
	Sarah Sawyer
34.1	Introduction	213	34.7	Internet and Social Media	216
34.2	Our Skin Care Consultant and Project Leader	214	34.8	Aestheticians	216
34.3	Choosing Products and Making Goals	215	34.9	Loyalty Programs and Skin Care	217
34.4	Educating and Indoctrinating Staff	215	34.10	Our Future Goals	218
34.5	Devote Space	215	34.11	Specific Financial Considerations and Benchmarks	218
34.6	Regimen Cards for Common Diagnoses	215	34.12	Common Pitfalls When Starting a Skin Care Business	218
			34.13	Conclusion	219
35	Building a Budget/Calculating Overhead	220
	Matthew J. Elias and Merrick D. Elias
35.1	Introduction	220	35.3	Methods for Calculating Expenses	221
35.2	Methods for Identifying Revenue	221	35.4	Methods for Creating a Budget	222
36	Evaluating Pharmacies and Patient Coupons	226
	Peter A. Lio
36.1	Introduction	226	36.3	Coupons and Rebates	228
36.2	Specialty Pharmacies	227	36.4	Conclusion	229

37	Deciding What Services to Provide	231
	Elizabeth K. Hale
37.1	Introduction	232
37.2	General Service Categories	232
37.3	Your Brand	237
37.4	Equipment	238
37.5	Training and Experience	240
37.6	Customer Demand	240
37.7	Insurance Considerations and Profit Margin	241
37.8	Adding New Services	242
37.9	Conclusion	243
38	Evaluating a Laser for Purchase and Calculating a Return on Investment for a Device	244
	E. Victor Ross
38.1	Introduction	244
38.2	ROI formula	249
38.3	Repairs	250
38.4	Conclusion	254
39	Evaluating Costs of Fillers and Toxins: Brand Loyalty versus Offering Everything	255
	Ellen Marmur
39.1	Introduction	255
39.2	Tracking Inventory, Pricing, and Promotions	256
39.3	Patient Participation in Brand Loyalty	258
39.4	Conclusion	258
Section V	The Nitty-Gritty	259
40	Essential Instruments	260
	Aleksandra G. Florek, Eileen L. Axibal, and Mariah R. Brown
40.1	Introduction	260
40.2	Disposable versus Nondisposable Surgical Instruments	260
40.3	Curettes	261
40.4	Scalpel Handles and Blades	261
40.5	Needle Holders	262
40.6	Scissors	262
40.7	Forceps	263
40.8	Hemostats	263
40.9	Skin Hooks	264
40.10	Sterilization Methods	264
40.11	Conclusion	264
41	Essential Stock to Start a Practice	265
	Michael T. Goldfarb and Jeffrey S. Orringer
41.1	Introduction	265
41.2	Step One: Your Budget	265
41.3	Step Two: Examination Rooms	266
41.4	Step Three: Tables	266
41.5	Step Four: Incorporating Your Electronic Medical Record (EMR)	266
41.6	Step Five: Prepare Your Rooms to Best Handle Your Most Important Services	266
41.7	Step Six: Determine How Many Instruments and Supplies You Need	267
41.8	Step Seven: Establish Your Method of Sterilization	268
41.9	Step Eight: Have an Inviting Waiting Room	268
41.10	Step Nine: Be Prepared to Send Patients Home with Appropriate Supplies	268

41.11	Step Ten: Sell and Stock Products If It Fits Your Personal Model for Patient Care	269	41.12	Building a Cosmetic Component to Your Practice	269
			41.13	Conclusion	271
42	Essential Stock for Cosmetic Procedures: How to Determine What to Carry, and Control Inventory and Costs	272
	Elizabeth L. Tanzi
42.1	Introduction.	272	42.5	Microneedling	276
42.2	Benign Lesion Removal	275	42.6	Cosmetic Devices	276
42.3	Injectables	275	42.7	Skin Care	277
42.4	Chemical Peels.	275
43	What Devices Does Your Practice Need?	278
	Jordan V. Wang and Nazanin Saedi
43.1	Introduction.	278	43.3	Purchasing Timeline	279
43.2	Market Analysis.	279	43.4	Financial Considerations	281
44	Loyalty and VIP Programs	283
	Daniel I. Schlessinger and Joel Schlessinger
44.1	Introduction.	283	44.3	VIP Programs	285
44.2	Outside Loyalty Programs and How They Relate to You and Your Patients	285	44.4	Ethics and Legality of Loyalty and VIP Programs	286
			44.5	Conclusion	286
Section VI Your Image		289
45	The Most Important Components of a Successful Website	290
	Kavita Mariwalla
45.1	Introduction.	290	45.12	Services Offered	295
45.2	Who Are You?	290	45.13	Mobile Accessibility	295
45.3	Find a Host.	291	45.14	Online Bill Pay	295
45.4	Create the Website	291	45.15	Bells and Whistles.	295
45.5	The Essential Components.	293	45.16	An Online Retail Store	296
45.6	About Us.	293	45.17	Join a Mailing List	296
45.7	Access to the Patient Portal.	293	45.18	Start a Blog	296
45.8	Access to Patient Forms	294	45.19	Videos.	296
45.9	Access to Privacy and Policies.	294	45.20	Publications	296
45.10	Access to Online Patient Appointments	294	45.21	Clinical Trials	296
45.11	"Message Us"	294	45.22	Conclusion	296

46	Social Media	297
	Kavita Mariwalla
46.1	Introduction	297
46.2	Step One: Who Is This For?	298
46.3	Step Two: Name It	298
46.4	Step Three: Which Platform to Choose	299
46.5	Step Four: How Do I Do It?	300
47	Creating and Nurturing a Brand/Logo	304
	Heather D. Rogers
47.1	Introduction	304
47.2	Step One: Identify the Goals of Your Brand	304
47.3	Step Two: Identify the Pillars of your Practice	305
47.4	Step Three: Create a Mission Statement for Your Brand	305
47.5	Step Four: Create a Slogan	306
47.6	Step Five: Pick a Name	306
48	Managing Your Online Reputation	309
	Wendy Lewis
48.1	Introduction	309
48.2	Online Reputation Management Pearls	310
48.3	Track Mentions of Your Name and Brand	310
48.4	Claim Your Brand on Key Social Media Platforms	310
48.5	Proactively Track Your Online Reviews	310
48.6	Addressing Negative Reviews	311
48.7	Develop a Robust Plan to Generate Positive Reviews	311
48.8	Create a Consistent Voice Online ...	312
48.9	Beware of Negative Search Engine Optimization (SEO) and Other Online Attacks	312
48.10	Build Your Influence through Great Content	312
48.11	Enlist in Social Media Monitoring ...	312
48.12	How NOT to Sue or Get Sued	313
48.13	SEO Tricks	314
48.14	Review Removal	314
48.15	Conclusion	314
49	Tips for the Media	315
	Doris Day
49.1	Introduction	315
49.2	How to Increase Your Chances of Being on a Show	316
49.3	Talking Points	316
49.4	Preparing for the Event	316
49.5	The Interview	316

49.6	General Points to Consider during the Interview.....	317	49.8	Case Study	318
49.7	Examples of Dos and Don'ts for Neuromodulators	318	49.9	Challenges	318
50	Marketing and Advertising Your Dermatology Practice	320
	Michelle Henry
50.1	Introduction.....	320	50.7	Social Media.....	324
50.2	Creating and Establishing a Brand ...	321	50.8	Newsletter, Blog	325
50.3	Website	322	50.9	Reviews.....	325
50.4	Digital Media.....	323	50.10	Offers and Discounts	325
50.5	Search Engine Optimization	323	50.11	Online Shop	326
50.6	Content.....	324	50.12	Conclusion	326
Section VII	Miscellaneous.....	327
51	Growing Your Practice.....	328
	Vince Bertucci and Alessia C. Bertucci
51.1	Starting Out.....	328	51.8	Service, Service, Service.....	331
51.2	Creating the Foundation for Growth	328	51.9	It's All about the Results	331
51.3	Define Your Practice Purpose and Ideals.....	329	51.10	Show Patients that You Care	331
51.4	Know Your Practice Type and Competitors.....	329	51.11	Appointment Scheduling.....	331
51.5	Ways to Grow Your Practice	329	51.12	The Consultation.....	332
51.6	Physician Extenders	330	51.13	Marketing and Public Relations	332
51.7	Know Your Numbers	330	51.14	Online Reviews	334
			51.15	Conclusion	334
52	Mohs: Outsource or Keep In-House.....	335
	Allison Hanlon
52.1	Introduction.....	335	52.4	Staffing.....	337
52.2	Clinical Volume	336	52.5	Certification.....	337
52.3	Clinical Space.....	336	52.6	Conclusion	337
53	The Ground Rules of Teaching in a Private Practice	338
	Lauren Taglia
53.1	Introduction.....	338	53.2	Methodology for Establishing a Teaching Program.....	340

54	Staying Active Nationally in the Years after Residency				342
	Susan H. Weinkle
54.1	Introduction.	342	54.8	Publishing and Media.	344
54.2	Why Be Active Nationally?	343	54.9	Advocacy	344
54.3	Leadership	343	54.10	Charity	344
54.4	Teaching	343	54.11	Mentoring	344
54.5	Clinical Research	343	54.12	International Involvement.	345
54.6	Consulting and Advisory Boards. ...	344	54.13	Keep Growing and Enjoying Practice.....	345
54.7	Volunteer Faculty	344
55	Getting Involved in Advocacy				346
	Byron K. Ho, Nikki D.Y. Tang, and Anthony M. Rossi
55.1	Introduction.	346	55.4	Patient Advocacy	348
55.2	Why Advocate?	346	55.5	Legislative Advocacy	349
55.3	Health Advocacy	347	55.6	Conclusion	352
	Index				353