

Contents

Editorial / Prologue	9
MaGiCLandscapes, Green Infrastructure and a Viral Interruption	20
Green Infrastructure and MaGiCLandscapes	24
Chapter 1 – Analysing the functions, services and benefits of green infrastructure for improved landscape management in Central Europe	38
Transnational Framework of Green Infrastructure Assessment (Work Package 1) ..	39
Assessing green infrastructure functionality at European, regional and local scale (Work Package 2)	45
Strategies for intervention at European, regional and local level (Work Package 3)	54
Chapter 2 – Green Infrastructure Strategies in MaGiCLandscapes’ Case Study Areas ..	61
Kyjovsko, South Moravia, Czech Republic	62
Dübener Heide Nature Park, Germany	68
Krkonos Mountains National Park and Surrounding Area, Czech Republic	74
Tri-Border Region Czech Republic, Germany and Poland	79
Eastern Waldviertel and Western Weinviertel, Austria	84
Karkonosze National Park and Jelenia Gora Basin, Poland	90
Thayatal National Park, Austria	96
Po Hills around Chieri, Italy	102
Upper Po Plain, Italy	107
Chapter 3 – Green infrastructure Planning and Management in Central Europe	112
Green infrastructure as an opportunity, Green infrastructure as a threat?	113
Green Infrastructure and the Potential for urban development in Dresden and Chemnitz	119
Mapping green infrastructure and assessing its connectivity in the agricultural region of Kyjovsko, Czech Republic	124
Green infrastructure and valorisation of the landscape around Karpacz/Poland ..	136
Power lines and their importance as part of green infrastructure, using the example of sections of the 380 kV high-voltage line between Dürnröhr (AT) – Slavětice (CZ)	141

Railway tracks as green infrastructure – biotope assessments on five train lines in Lower Austria	144
Green infrastructure along bicycle routes: a benefit for cycling tourism and nature conservation	148
Green Infrastructure for better living: The LOS_DAMA!* project approach	157
Communicating green infrastructure: the Italian experience of RETICULA	164
Conclusion	169
Acknowledgements	170