

CONTENTS

Foreword	7
Essays after 1928
I. The Mystery of Golgotha	9
1. The Crucifixion in the Light of the Philosophy of Freedom	9
2. The Mystery of Golgotha and Heaven	16
3. The Mystery of Golgotha and the Earth	21
4. The Mystery of Golgotha and Humanity	24
5. The Rose-Cross of the World	26
II. Humanity on the Road to Damascus	29
III. Michaelmas Festival Address on 29th September 1938	35
Essays after 1940
IV. Cognition as a Mystery Process	49
1. Cognition as Guilt and Atonement	49
2. The Mystery of Self-Knowledge	53
3. Christ in World History	61
V. In the Beginning of Cognition is Thinking	67
VI. Christ as Judge	70
VII. Nietzsche as Sacrificial Victim of his Time	82
A Few Indications	97