

Table of Contents

Andreas Brämer

Foreword 9

Ulrich Knufinke

Jewish Architects – Jewish Architecture?
Biographical Studies and Architectural History as an Interdisciplinary and International Field of Research 11

Simon Paulus

Maneschin the Master Builder. Jews as “Architects” in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Period? 21

Joy Kestenbaum

Henry Fernbach. His Associates and His Legacy 33

Samuel D. Gruber

Arnold W. Brunner (1857–1925). America’s Foremost Jewish Architect
..... 43

Mirko Przystawik

Ludwig Levy. An Architect of Jewish Faith? 53

Katrin Keßler

Jewish Architects and Their Networks. The Example of the Zionist
Architect Richard Michel 61

Ulrike Unterweger

Design(ed) in Public Discourse. Two Competitions for a Synagogue in Early Twentieth-Century Vienna 69

Claudia Marcy & Günter Schlusche

Cinema Architecture and the Relationship between Architect and Client.
The Case of Martin Punitzer and Gustav Neustein 77

Rudolf Klein

“Jewification” of Hungarian Architecture The Dispute of Gentiles and Jews in 1906 87

Artur Tanikowski

In Tel Aviv, Warsaw, and Gdynia. Interwar Jewish Architects from the Polish Lands between Zionism and Assimilation 101

Sigal Davidi & Roland Jaeger

From Hamburg to Haifa. Civil Engineer Willy Weltsch 111

Edina Meyer-Maril

The Restless Life of the Architect Judith Stolzer-Segall (1904–90).
Russia–Germany–Israel–Germany 125

Zuzana Güllendi-Cimprichová

Czech Jewish Architect Karl Kohn and the Shaping of Modernism in Ecuador 133

Sharman Kadish

From Fortune to Failure? Three Emigré Architects and Synagogue Design in Central Europe and England, 1933–63 143

Sergey R. Kravtsov

Joseph Barsky and His Search for a “Hebrew” Architecture 155

Ines Sonder

Zionism and Exile. The Architects Lotte Cohn and Marie Frommer .. 165

Naomi Simhony

The Competition for the Design of Nazareth Illit’s Central Synagogue
..... 175

Alexandra Klei

Relations and Disruptions. Jewish Architects in Postwar Germany 181

Paola Ardizzola

At the Roots of Modernity. The Intrinsic Jewish Component of Modern Architecture 189

Stephen Games

Jews, Architecture, and Post-War Nationalism in the UK 207