

Contents

Part I: Image systems

Introductory Essay

David Wengrow

On image systems in human history 3

Performative geometries

Susanne Küchler

Why images prevail 19

Els Lagrou

*Visual thought processes in an inter-semiotic perspective.
Patterns and relational thinking in Amazonia* 39

Visual and material ways of knowing

Paul Pettitt

*Peripersonal social worlds.
Exploring the nature of the earliest visual cultures of African and Near Eastern Homo sapiens and Eurasian Neanderthals* 63

Caroline van Eck

Camouflage, zoomorphism, and the origins of image-making 93

Carl Knappett

*Artefact typology as media ecology.
Perspectives from Aegean Bronze Age art* 115

Jeffrey Quilter
Moche representational art	139

Part II: Reconfiguring image and script

Introductory Essay

Carlo Severi
On complex picture-writings.
Chimeras, pictographs, and writings in the
Native American arts of memory	165

Graphic writing systems

Bárbaro Martínez-Ruiz
Bakongo graphic writing as a basis for rethinking
the transmission of knowledge	197

Gebhard J. Selz
Beyond speech.
Advocating a non-logocentric view on the evolution of
cuneiform writing	213

Polythetic aspects of writing

Sybille Krämer
Reflections on 'operative iconicity' and 'artificial flatness'	251

Flavia Carraro
The loom and the Linear B script of Bronze Age Greece.
Reflections on the textility of writing and 'entextileization'	273

Bérénice Gaillemin
Signs in three dimensions.
Sensitive writing and scriptural landscape (Bolivia, 21st century)	295

Image-script hierarchies

Stephen Houston
What writing looks like	327

Edward L. Shaughnessy Writing natural images and reading China's 'Classic of Changes'	347
Notes on Contributors	363