

CONTENTS

I

- 7 Arles, Summer 2020

Zurich: Pop, Feminism, Collectives

II

- 19 Tradition and Modernism (1948–69):
Growing up by Lake Zurich as Pop
Makes Waves
“Übre Gotthard flüget Bräme”—Childhood in Zurich—
Pop and Protests

III

- 41 Frauenrakete Has Lift-off (1970–79):
Zurich’s Scenes—First Curatorial
Experiments (with a Stage Interlude)
Between University and Underground—Art Critic—
Confines and a New Dawn—1974: Live Acts in New York and Zurich—Women’s Art and Women’s Anti-Art—Sigmar Polke and Art in a Collective—Mentalities and Regions—Frustration, Excitement, and Punk

Between Zurich and New York: From the Scene to an Art Institution

IV

- 119 Asphalt and “Parkett” (1980–89):
From Zurich’s Underground to an International Magazine
Cultural Conflict and Celebration in Zurich: Saus und Braus—“Swiss artists are in demand”—Back to Art History: Meret Oppenheim and Albert Welte—
“If something doesn’t exist, you have to invent it”
(Hans Ulrich Obrist): Founding Parkett

V

- 173 “We want to see the Med!” (1990–99):
Freelance Curator on the Move and at Kunsthaus Zürich
Paris, London, Vienna: The Tempo-Throttler’s
Rushing—Freedom and an Institutional Anchor—
Thematic Exhibitions from Endstation Sehnsucht
to Birth of the Cool—Switzerland Without Borders:
The Scene and the Art Mafia

From Venice to Arles: Contemporaneity, History, and Locality in the Global Art World

VI

- 253 The Expanded Eye (2000–09):
The Power of the Work of Art and the Exhibition as an Other History of Art
Retrospectives and Revisions from O’Keeffe to Kuhn: Monographic Exhibitions—Expanding
Contemporaneity, Expanding the Canon—Curating:
Methods and Issues—A Popular Magazine

VII

- 294 The Classics Revisited and Reinterpreted (2010–20): From the Venice
Biennale to a Modern Artist
Porosity—An Artist’s Museum with a Difference—
Hot Sun, Late Sun: Revisiting van Gogh—
The Success of Contemporary Art and the Questions
That Raises

- 381 Bibliography
385 Bice Curiger: Publications
397 Index