

Table of Contents	page
Translator's introduction	V
Zad – mystery between Niger and Nile (1955)	1
Tsade – the Great Water	12
Chad – the great watering place of nations	17
The legend of the first islander	22
Fertility and ancestor cults	35
Militant past	40
The imaginary world in songs and fables	51
Community life	65
Jurisdiction	76
Jewellery, garments, and weapons	82
Houses and boats	88
Of the 'miracle' in Lake Chad	94
 On garment and jewellery of the Buduma (1964)	 103
 Fertility cults among the Buduma. A contribution to the culture history of the Lake Chad population (1955)	 135
 Water craft of the Lake Chad region (1957)	 143
 The 'Kanaka' of Lake Chad. A contribution to knowledge of the spiritual world of the Buduma (n.d.)	 173
The lion and his friend, the earth-squirrel	175
Animals searching for one who is wise and can speak the truth	176
Panther, monkey, and goat	177
Horse and hippopotamus	178
Ant, earth-squirrel, pig, buffalo, elephant, and hippopotamus	178

Hyena, jackal, and goat	179
Gazelle, antelope, hare, and earth-squirrel	181
Further contributions to knowledge about the Buduma (1963)	183
Sacrifice for the protection of cattle	186
Sacrifice for the protection of goats	188
Baby care among the Buduma – stretching of limbs and shaping of skull	189
Appendices (G. S.-B.)
Appendix I- Friedrich Konrad Hornemann	193
Appendix II - Adolf Overweg	197
Appendix III - Gerhard Rohlf's	200
Appendix IV - Heinrich Barth	203
Appendix V - Gustav Nachtigal	209
Appendix VI -Haddad	212
Catherine Baroin, What do we know about the Buduma? A brief survey (2005)	219
Index (G. S.-B.)	243