

Contents

09	ACKNOWLEDGMENTS
11–13	AUTHOR'S NOTE
15	Ode to Water
17–20	FOREWORD Kenneth Frampton
21–23	FOREWORD Ana Tostoes
25–30	INTRODUCTION
33–63	Part I WATER'S METAMORPHOSIS Temporary to Everlasting INTERMITTENT WATER EARLY RESPONSES Tel Hreiz Catalhoyuk Bajau Venice Marsh Arabs CONTEMPORARY RESPONSES Lumcon Farnsworth House Kansai Airport

PERMANENT WATER

Spatial Disruption

Containment Upon Arrival

Contextual Change

Erasure of Place

65–78 Part II EVOLVING DETERMINANTS

Consequences of Warming

Ice Sheet Melt

More Water

Less Land

Liquefaction

Consequences of Urbanization

Subsidence

81–131 Part III WET TYPOLOGIES

New Architecture

WET ARCHITECTURE

A Singular Expression

Interactional

Conjoining Dissimilar Contexts

Partial Lift

Full Vertical Lift

Full Horizontal Lift

Mobility: Assembly + Functioning

Scale/Configuration

Habitable Parts

The Platform and Mobility

Supporting Leg System

Operability

Divergency

Rangebound

Material Adaptation

WET URBANISM

A System of Elements

A New Arrangement

Connectivity

Scale/Configuration/Placement

Urban Renewal

Welcome

Placemaking

Continuance

AFTERWORD

133–136

Rasmus Waern

137–141

Karsten Harries

APPENDIX

143–164

Bibliography

165–172

Chronology of Images

174–175

Biographies