

The Sharīʿa in the Constitutions of Afghanistan, Iran and Egypt – Implications for Private Law

edited by

Nadjma Yassari

Mohr Siebeck

Table of Contents

Abbreviations	IX
Contributors	XI
 Part I: Shari'a in Afghanistan	 1
Jürgen Basedow
Introduction.....	3
Mohammad Hamid Saboory
The Progress of Constitutionalism in Afghanistan.....	5
Mohammad Hashem Kamali
Islam and its Shari'a in the Afghan Constitution 2004 with Special Reference to Personal Law	23
Nadjma Yassari
Legal Pluralism and Family Law: An Assessment of the Current Situation in Afghanistan	45
Ali Wardak
Building a Post-War Justice System in Afghanistan	61
Irene Schneider
The Position of Women in the Islamic and Afghan Judiciary	83
Bashir Munib
Law of Land Tenure and Transfer of Property in Times of War	103
 Part II: The Iranian Model	 107
Elaheh Kolaei
Afghan and Iranian Women: Sharing Experiences.....	109
Mohammad Rasekh
Are Islamism and Republicanism Compatible? A Theory of the Unchangeable Principles of the Constitution of the Islamic Republic of Iran	113

Behrooz Akhlaghi

Iranian Commercial law and the New Investment Law FIPPA	123
---	-----

Nahid Shid

Selected Aspects of Iranian Family Law.....	141
---	-----

Part III: The Egyptian Way	153
----------------------------------	-----

Adel Omar Sherif

Constitutions of Arab Countries and the Position of the Sharī'a	155
---	-----

Baudouin Dupret

A Return to the Sharī'a? Egyptian Judges and the Reference to Islam	161
---	-----

Part IV: Concluding Remarks.....	179
----------------------------------	-----

Martin Haars

Summary and Concluding Remarks.....	181
-------------------------------------	-----

Bibliography.....	195
-------------------	-----

Participants in the Conference	203
--------------------------------------	-----

Appendices.....	207
-----------------	-----

Annex A: The Afghan Constitution 1964 (Dari/English).....	209
--	-----

Annex B: The Agreement on Provisional Arrangements in Afghanistan Pending the Re-Establishment of Permanent Government Institutions	261
---	-----

Annex C: The Afghan Constitution 2004 (Dari/English).....	269
--	-----

Annex D: Excerpts of the Iranian Constitution 1979 as amended 1989 (Farsi/English).....	331
--	-----

Annex E: Foreign Investment Promotion and Protection Act 2002 FIPPA (Farsi/English).....	343
---	-----

Translation of the contributions in Dari