

Contents

Video Contents	viii
Foreword	ix
Preface to the Second Edition	ix
Preface to the First Edition	xi
Acknowledgments	xiv

Section I Overview and History

1 Introduction	3	Kanmushisho (疥虫証) or Kannomushisho (疥の虫証)	12
2 History and Theory	6	Shonishin Today	13

Section II Treatment Principles and Tools of Treatment

3 General Considerations in the Treatment of Children	17	Final Thoughts on the Issue of the Sensitive Patient, and Practical Recommendations on How to Improve Your Skills	28
4 A Model for Judging the Dosage Needs of Patients	19	6 Basic Shonishin Treatment Tools	31
The Therapeutic Dose—A Conceptual Model	19	Tools Used for Tapping	31
The Sensitive Patient	20	Tools Used for Stroking/Rubbing	34
Explanations of Increased Sensitivity	21	Tools Used for Pressing	37
5 Assessing Changes, Recognizing and Correcting Problems of Overdose ...	24	Tools Used for Scratching	39
Palpating the Skin of Babies and Children	24	Needle Sets	39
Reactions to Overtreatment	24	Most Recommended Tools	41
Modifying Treatment Methods to Regulate the Dose of Treatment and Deliver Treatment Successfully	27	Care of the Tools	43
Thoughts on the Issue of Regulating the Dose of Treatment	28	Disposable Tools	43
		Treatment Applications	43
		Monitoring and Assessing Treatment Effects	43
		Recommendations of Methods to Practice and Improve Your Tapping and Stroking Techniques	44

Section III Root Treatment Approaches and Techniques

7 The Core Treatment Model	53	The Basic Method	61
Precautions and Contraindications of the Core Non-pattern-based Root Treatment	53	9 Pattern-Based Root Treatment: Meridian Therapy Applied to Adults .	63
Techniques for Basic Treatment	54	Basic Theories of Meridian Therapy	64
Preferences, Styles, and Approaches	59	Meridian Therapy Treatment Principles	65
8 Home Treatment and Parental Participation	60	Meridian Therapy Diagnostic Methods and Patterns	65
Goals	60	Meridian Therapy Treatment and Treatment Techniques	66
Precautions	61

10 Pattern-Based Root Treatment: Meridian Therapy Applied to Children	70	Modifying Point Selection for Treatment of the Primary Patterns	74
Diagnosis to Select the Primary Pattern in Babies and Small Children	70	Treatment Methods in Meridian Therapy	75
Diagnosis to Select the Primary Pattern as Children Become Older	71	Treatment Technique with Spring-Loaded Teishin or Tsumoshin	76
Diagnosis to Select Additional Steps of Root Treatment	72	Practicing to Refine Your Technique	78
Children with Two-Pattern Diagnoses ...	72	Point Location of Main Treatment Points	80
		Five-Phase Correspondences and Clinical Practice	81
		Assessing Treatment Effectiveness	84

Section IV Symptomatic Treatment Approaches and Techniques

11 Needling	87	13 Moxa: Okyu (Direct Moxa) and Chinetsukyu (Warm Moxa)	96
Introduction	87	Okyu —The Physiology of Direct Moxa	97
Needle Types	87	Chinetsukyu —Warm Moxa	99
Needle Sensations and Timing of the Needling	89	14 Kyukaku—Cupping	101
Needle Insertion	90	15 Shiraku—Bloodletting (Jing Points and Vascular Spiders)	102
Key Points to Remember	91	Jing Point Bloodletting	102
Practice Methods to Improve Your Needle Insertion Skills	91	Vascular Spider Bloodletting	103
		Practice	104
12 Dermal Needles and Associated Techniques	92	16 Point Location—Location of Extra Points for Symptomatic Treatment	105
Ryu —Press-Spheres, Empishin —Press-Tack Needles, and Hinaishin —Intradermal Needles	92	Josen	105
Selecting between Use of Intradermal Needles, Press-Tack Needles, and Press-Spheres	93	Uranaitai	105
Precautions	94	Shitsumin	105
Application of Press-Spheres, Press-Tack Needles, and Intradermal Needles	95	Asthma Shu Point	106
		“Stop Coughing” Point	106
		Lateral Pigen Point	106
		Moving LR-1	106

Section V Treatment of Specific Problems/Diseases

17 Introduction to the Treatment of Specific Problems/Diseases	109	Urticaria	149
How to Use These Treatment Chapters ...	111	20 Digestive Problems	152
Putting Your Treatment Together into a System	111	Constipation	152
Sources Used in the Treatment Chapters of this Book	115	Diarrhea	157
		Abdominal Pain	161
18 Respiratory Problems	117	Stomach Problems	168
Asthma	117	Additional Digestive Problems	174
Additional Respiratory Conditions	130	21 Behavioral, Emotional, or Sleep Problems	176
19 Skin Disease	132	Kanmushisho —the Cranky Child	176
Eczema	132	Stress	190
Atopic Dermatitis	144	Posttraumatic Stress Disorder	194
		Obsessive Compulsive Disorder (OCD) ...	197

Anxiety—Fearfulness	200	General Approach for Patients with
Further Emotional/Behavioral Problems..	203	Weak Constitution	266
22 Urinary Disturbances	204	Goals of Treatment	266
General Approach for Patients with		Root Treatment for the Lung Weak
Urinary Problems	208	Constitution Type	266
Most Likely Pattern-based Root Diagnosis ..	208	Root Treatment for the Spleen Weak
Typical Non-pattern-based Root		Constitution Type	267
Treatment	209	Root Treatment for the Kidney Weak
Recommendations for Symptomatic		Constitution Type	267
Treatment	209	Root Treatment for the Liver Weak
Integrating the Pattern-based and		Constitution Type	268
Core Non-pattern-based Root Treatments		Further Case Histories	269
with Needling and Moxa Symptomatic
Treatments	210	27 Recurrent Infections	281
Other Considerations	212	Recurrent Respiratory Tract
Further Case Histories	213	Infections	281
		Candida albicans Infection	293
23 Ear and Nose Problems	220	28 Improving Vitality	296
Otitis Media—Ear Infections	220	Goals of Treatment in Complicated
Nasal Congestion	226	Cases	300
Sinusitis	232	General Approach to Improve Vitality....	300
		Typical Non-pattern-based Root
24 Headaches	233	Treatment	301
General Approach for Patients with		Other Supportive Treatments	301
Headache	236	Other Considerations	302
Most Likely Pattern-based Root		Further Case History	302
Diagnosis	237
Typical Non-pattern-based Root		29 Recommendations for Treatment of	Other and Less Commonly Seen
Treatment	238	Problems	305
Recommendations for Symptomatic		The Child with Fever	305
Treatment	238	Teething Problems	307
		Infectious Diseases	307
25 Developmental Problems	247	Tonsillitis	308
General Approach for the Treatment of		Mumps	308
Children with Developmental Problems..	248	Rheumatologic Conditions	309
Most Likely Pattern-based Root Diagnosis ..	248	Nervous Conditions	311
Typical Non-pattern-based Root		Neurological Conditions	312
Treatment	249	Kidney Diseases	315
Recommendations for Symptomatic		Postnatal Lethargy with Lack of Sucking
Treatment	249	Reflex	316
Other Considerations	250	Surgical Conditions	317
Further Case Histories	250
		30 Combining Treatment
26 Weak Constitution	263	Methods	318
The Lung Weak Constitution Patient	264	Shonishin and Other Acupuncture
The Spleen Weak Constitution Patient ...	264	Methods	318
The Kidney Weak Constitution Patient ...	264	Shonishin and Chinese Herbal Medicine ..	323
The Liver Weak Constitution Patient	264	Shonishin and Bach Flowers	328
		Educational	335
Appendix		Bibliography	336
Glossary of Shonishin Terminology	333	Index	339
Additional Information	335
Treatment Equipment	335		