

Contents

1	Introduction: Of Biographical Approaches, Neopragmatisms, Urban–Rural Hybrids and... ‘Why the Hell Baton Rouge?’	1
2	Theoretical Framework and Methodological Approach	7
2.1	Developments in Landscape Research - A Brief Outline of Where We Stand Today	8
2.2	Basic Theoretical Positions of the Work - The Neopragmatic Framework	10
2.3	Neopragmatic Urban Landscape Biography Research	13
2.4	The Conception of the Present Work as a ‘Neopragmatic Landscape Biography’	14
2.5	Neopragmatic Methodological Approach	20
3	Complex Impacts on Baton Rouge: Supraregional Development Contexts and Impulses	21
3.1	Modern Urban Development: Suburbanization and De-Urbanization	21
3.2	Postmodern Housing Developments: From Grids to Urban–Rural Hybrids, Spatial Pastiches, and Urbanizing Former Suburbs (URFSURBS)	26
4	The Regional Contextualization: Main Features of Louisiana’s Development	31
4.1	The Context of the Natural Initial Substrates: Physical and Spatial Foundations	31
4.2	Historical Contextualization: Major Lines of Development in Louisiana	34
4.3	Current Spatial Contextualizations: The Regional Procedural and Structural Integration of Baton Rouge	38

5	Historical Aspects of the Urban-Rural Hybrid Landscape Biography of Baton Rouge	39
5.1	Moderate Settlement Formation: Baton Rouge Prior to The Annexation with the United States	39
5.2	The Gradually Developing Southern State City: Baton Rouge from its Integration into the United States to the Establishment of the Petrochemical Industry	43
5.3	The Phase of Forced Industrialization: Baton Rouge and the Oil and Petrochemical Industries	49
5.4	The Moderate Post-Modernization: Baton Rouge's Diversified Developments	60
5.5	Baton Rouge Today: (Spatial) Statistical Approximations	65
5.6	Historical Aspects of the Urban-Rural Hybrid Landscape Biography of Baton Rouge – An Interim Conclusion on the 'Tripole City'	73
6	Compartments of Development in the Spatial Pastiche of Baton Rouge	75
6.1	The Spatial Structure of the Downtown Area and Its Spatial Links	75
6.1.1	Downtown Development in the Second Half of the Twentieth Century and the Beginning of the 21st	76
6.1.2	Administrative Efforts to Strengthen the Downtown	86
6.1.3	Downtown Developments Today	87
6.2	From the Janus Face of Accelerated Industrialization: Oil and Petrochemical Industry in and Around Baton Rouge	90
6.3	The Centers of Academic Life: Louisiana State University and Southern University	95
6.4	The Distribution of Physical-Spatial Indicators of the Unequal Distribution of Symbolic Capital and Life Chances in Baton Rouge	101
6.4.1	Cultural Hybridization	101
6.4.2	Geographies of Consumption Depending on the Availability of Symbolic Capital	109
6.4.3	Education	112
6.4.4	The Distribution of Physical and Spatial Indicators of the Unequal Distribution of Symbolic Capital and Life Chances - A Conclusion	112
6.5	The White Suburbs' Uprising: The Incorporation Efforts Around St. George	114
6.6	Walkability	119
6.6.1	The Traffic Framework of Walkability	119
6.6.2	Walkability - Criteria and Procedure	121
6.6.3	Florida Street/Boulevard	121
6.6.4	Government Street	123
6.6.5	Plank Road	123

6.6.6	Siegen Lane	126
6.6.7	Summary Walkability	126
6.7	Strangers Fields - Phenomenological Walks in Florida
	Street/Boulevard, Government Street and Plank Road	128
6.7.1	Florida Boulevard/Florida Street: On the Hybridity of Past and Present and its Reflection in Uselessness-Low Use Hybrids	130
6.7.2	Government Street: On Revitalization and Land Use Cycles . . .	137
6.7.3	Plank Road - of High Potential and the Difficulties of Alternative Interpretations	139
6.7.4	Florida Street/Blvd. and Government Street as Complementary Inverse Urban Landscapes, Plank Road – The ‘Mostly-Out-of-Order-But-With-High-Potential’ Road . . .	144
6.8	Evolutionary Compartments in the Baton Rouge Spatial Pastiche - An Interim Conclusion	144
7	Baton Rouge and Mass Media: Of Descriptions, Interpretations and Stagings	147
7.1	Descriptions, Interpretations, and Staging on Internet Homepages Based on a Google Keyword Search	148
7.2	The Visualization of Baton Rouge: Internet Images and Videos	151
7.2.1	Baton Rouge in Internet Images	151
7.2.2	Baton Rouge in Internet videos	155
7.3	The Tourist Representation of Baton Rouge: Tripadvisor	162
7.4	Artistic Approach to Baton Rouge - Baton Rouge in Song	165
7.5	The Spamification of Public Space and its Satirical Social Media Representation	168
7.6	The National Representation of Baton Rouge Using the New York Times as an Example	172
7.7	Baton Rouge and Mass Media: of Descriptions, Interpretations, and Stagings - an Interim Conclusion	178
8	Baton Rouge as a Living Environment	181
8.1	Everyday Life in Baton Rouge	182
8.1.1	Baton Rouge as the Center of Life – the ‘Big City Small Town’	183
8.1.2	The View from Outside – ‘Baton... What?’	187
8.1.3	Searching for the Center	189
8.1.4	Petrochemical-Industrial Imprinting as ‘Pact with the Devil’ . . .	193
8.1.5	The Public School System as a Forcing for and Manifestation of Social, Ethnic, and Spatial Segregation Processes	200

8.1.6	'Crime is not a Baton Rouge-Specific Phenomenon, but a US-Wide One'	203
8.1.7	Disinvestment in Infrastructure, Existing Building Stock and Acceptance of the Housing Conditions of Less Privileged Sections of the Population	205
8.1.8	The Mississippi River as a 'Physical and Psychological Barrier'	209
8.1.9	Special Places of the Interviewees: Of Co-Existences of Stereotypical Visual Expectations and Postmodern Aesthetics of Decay	216
8.2	The Ethnic, Social, and Spatial Division of the City	218
8.2.1	Conceptions, Anxieties, and Passed Down Narratives.	222
8.2.2	The Elephant in the Living Room: Racism and Persistencies in the Everyday World	226
8.2.3	Incorporation of the City of St. George as 'Highlighting Something that Everyone Already Saw Before'	227
8.3	Wishing for Baton Rouge's Future.	230
8.3.1	Of Baton Rouge's Potentials or Rather the Ignorance of Them	230
8.3.2	Restrictions – Mindsets and the Resistance of the Status Quo.	232
8.3.3	Desirable Prospects – Baton Rouge as 'a City that Dreams Bigger'	235
8.4	Baton Rouge as Living Environment: "The Rice Pudding with the Sugar-Sweet Raisins in It" – An Interim Conclusion on the 'Multivillage-Metropolis'.	240
9	Conclusions - of Developments, Reflections, and Perspectives on the 'Multivillage-Metropolis'	243
9.1	Conclusion I: Developments and Interpretations in and of Baton Rouge	243
9.2	Conclusion II: Reflections on the Neopragmatic Approach and the Concept of 'Urban-Rural Landscape Biographies'	248
9.3	Conclusion III: The View from Outside - High Potential Multivillage-Metropolis.	252
10	Post Scriptum: The Baton Rouge Style	255
10.1	Infrastructure Baton Rouge Style.	255
10.2	All Around Driving: Baton Rouge Style	256
10.3	Room Development and Planning Baton Rouge Style	259
10.4	Social and Economic Life: Baton Rouge Style	260

Contents	xi
<hr/>
11 Annex	263
11.1 Google Results	263
11.2 Internet Videos	264
11.3 Baton Rouge in a Song	267
11.4 Articles, New York Times (NYT)	269
11.5 Interview Guide	274
Correction to: Baton Rouge as a Living Environment	C1
Bibliography	277