

Contents

List of Illustrations	vii
List of Tables	xi
Acknowledgements	xiii
BETH PALMER AND AMELIA YEATES
Introduction	i
PART I Framing the Reader
15
BETH PALMER
1 Framing Reading in Mary Watts's Diaries and Designs	17
CATHERINE J. GOLDEN
2 Reading Like a Victorian: How the Book Review Illuminates Viewing as an Essential Part of Reading	41
GARTH WENMAN-JAMES
3 Picturing the Poor: Reader Spectatorship, Sympathy and Slumming in Charles Dickens's Oliver Twist	71
PART II Visual Representations of Readers
101
COLIN CRUISE
4 Painting the 'Woman as Reader': From Romney to Rossetti	103

AMELIA YEATES

- 5 'No Happy Wearing of Beloved Leaves': Women and Not
Reading in Nineteenth-Century Art 135

CHARLOTTE BOMAN

- 6 In Search of 'Some Bond of Union': Picturing the Domestic
Reading Circle in Victorian Photographs 163

PART III The Reader in the Text 189

ASHTON FOLEY-SCHRAMM

- 7 Interrogating the Male Reader in Mary Elizabeth Braddon's
Lady Audley's Secret 191

KATIE HALSEY

- 8 Picturing the Reader in Jane Austen's Novels 217

MARY HAMMOND

- Afterword 255

- Notes on Contributors 259

- Index 263