Table of Content

Co-operation in Conflict – Some Introductory Words 7

Chapter I: War Time Postal and Telecommunications

Sabrina Proschmann
European Postal Services During the Second World War – German Hegemony vs. Technocratic Traditions 23

Valentine Aldebert
"Cooperate!" – The Occupied French Administration, European Telecommunications and War: A Fragile Balance 43

Christian Henrich-Franke
‚Objective Operations' Under Swiss Neutrality? The International Broadcasting Union During WWII 71

Valentine Aldebert
Giuseppe Gneme (1872-1958): The "Dean" of Telecommunications 81

Pascal Griset
Pierre Marzin: Innovator and Techno-Patriot 87

Sabrina Proschmann, Christian Henrich Franke
German Careers Within the European Postal and Telecommunications Union (EPTU) – Continuities and Discontinuities 109

Sabrina Proschmann
Representing the EPTU to a Wider Public – Stamps Commemorating the Union's Foundation 119

Chapter II: Comparison With Inland Transport Infrastructures

Guido Thiemeyer
Inland Navgation Infrastructures and the Second World War: The Example of the Rhine Region 125

Martial Libera
Canalization of the Moselle River During the Second World War: Continuities or Departures between Nazi Policy and Long-Term River Improvement Plans? 145

Bibliografische Informationen
https://d-nb.info/1269714813

digitalisiert durch DEUTSCHE NATIONAL BIBLIOTHEK

Jiří Janáč
Navigating the Middle: Integration of Inland Navigation in Central Europe and the Second World War 161

Léonard Laborie
Railways: Halted Multilateral Cooperation, Valid Multilateral Agreements 193

Mathieu Flonneau
Shaping Motorway Europe: Between War and Peace 207

Martial Libera
Karel Paul van der Mandele 215

Claire Aslangul-Rallo
Prosperity and Identity: European Networks in Signal Magazine. An Argument Used to Promote the Nazi Project for the Continent's Unification. 219

Conclusion 247