

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Chapter One: Teacher Learning, Digital Technologies and New Literacies	1
Michele Knobel and Judy Kalman
Chapter Two: Accompaniment: A Socio-Cultural Approach for Rethinking Practice and Uses of Digital Technologies with Teachers	21
Oscar Hernández Razo, Victor Rendón Cazales and Judy Kalman
Chapter Three: Doing-It-Ourselves Development: (Re)defining, (Re)designing and (Re)valuing the Role of Teaching, Learning, and Literacies	43
Susi Bostock, Kathleen Lisi-Neumann and Melissa Collucci
Chapter Four: Professional Development from the Inside Out: Redesigning Learning through Collaborative Action Research	65
Heather Lotherington, Stephanie Fisher, Jennifer Jenson and Laura Mae Lindo
Chapter Five: Literacy Spaces, Digital Pathways and Connected Learning: Teachers' Professional Development in Times of New Mobilities	89
Ola Erstad

Chapter Six: A Digital Book Project with Primary
Education Teachers in Finland 109
Reijo Kupiainen, Hanna Leinonen, Marita Mäkinen, and Angela Wiseman

Chapter Seven: Professional Development and Digital Literacies in Argentinean Classrooms: Rethinking “What Works” in Massive Technology Programs 131
Inés Dussel

Chapter Eight: Exploring Multidirectional Memory-Work and the Digital as a Phase Space for Teacher Professional Development 151
Teresa Strong-Wilson, Claudia Mitchell, and Marcea Ingersoll

Chapter Nine: Expanding Notions of Professional Development in Adult Basic Education 173
Erik Jacobson

Chapter Ten: #PD: Examining the Intersection of Twitter and Professional Learning 195
Carly Biddolph and Jen Scott Curwood

Chapter Eleven: Connected Learning Professional Development:
Production-Centered and Openly Networked Teaching Communities. 219
Christina Cantrill and Kylie Peppler

Contributors 243

Name index 253

Subject index 257