

Notes on Contributors . . . . .	VII
Introduction . . . . .	1
Stephan Nicolussi-Köhler
Change and Transformation of Premodern Credit Markets.
The Importance of Small-Scale Credits . . . . .	23
Gilles Postel-Vinay
Colonisation and Credit in Medieval Wales . . . . .	39
Matthew Frank Stevens
Small Credit in a Small Town: Clerical Institutions and the Credit Market in Kaufbeuren in the Fifteenth Century . . . . .	65
Sven Rabeler
Between City and Countryside: Moneylending and Settling Debts in and around Meran (1388–1392) . . . . .	89
Stephan Nicolussi-Köhler
Credit Networks between City and Countryside in Late Medieval Lucca . . . . .	133
So Nakaya

Webs of Credit and Uses of Civil Justice. The Case of 15th-Century Basel	157
Benjamin Hitz
 The Other Side of Banking. Private Lending and the Role of Women in Early Modern Italy	193
Marcella Lorenzini
 High Finance, Banking and Small-Scale Moneylending: A New Trinity of Financial Functions for Lombards in the Late-Medieval Low Countries?	215
David Kusman
 Trading Networks, Credit, and Trust: The Hansards' Capital Raising Revisited	251
Ulf Christian Ewert
 Contract and Trust in Fifteenth-Century Church Courts	275
Hannah Robb
 Strategies of Survival: Pawn-broking and Credit Relations in Rome and Perugia (15th and 16th centuries)	293
Tanja Skambraks	