

Contents

Acknowledgements	5	Paintings as Socio-Political Model: Agonistics in Julie Mehretu's Assemblies	178
Introduction	6	Helen Westgeest
The Image and the Concrete David Joselit and Alex Bacon	8	A Short History of Painting: Haptic Vision Gregory Minissale	193
Painting On Top of the Bad News Tracey Tawhiao and Caroline Vercoe	14	Ecological Thought in the Paintings of James Robinson, Jenna Packer, and Ayesha Green Bridie Lonie	205
Emily Karaka: Roots and Rhythms Francis McWhannell	24	Towards a Materiality of Eco-Painting: Polluted Waters in the work of Vibha Galhotra Celina Jeffery	218
All Interwoven: A Discussion between Emily Karaka and Francis McWhannell	29	Becoming Absorbed in Sapphire Blue: Abstract Painting's Political Agency and the Feeling of Aesthetic Release Luke Smythe	230
Richard Killeen's Vegetable Politics Laurence Simmons	38	From the Viewpoint of Redemption: Adorno's Aesthetics Leonhard Emmerling	242
Slides, Sleights, and Luminosity: Rhythm and Plasticity in Some Paintings by Stella Corkery Allan Smith	50	Past Imperfect: Pākehā Primitivism and the Politics of Appropriation Ray Spiteri	249
Modernity and Measina: The Paintings of Graham Fletcher Graham Fletcher and Andrea Low	62	Colin McCahon: Painting Politically in Times of War Wystan Curnow	262
Vivian Lynn: A Return Kirsty Baker	72	"Toward a happier and more successful life," or When Veterans Made Art in the Modern Museum, 1944–1948 Suzanne Hudson	273
"How do you love your ancestors when they've done bad things?" Julian Hooper and Ane Tonga	84	Bibliography	284
Painting Bodies Helen Johnson	92	Colophon	288
Painting Assemblages Simon Ingram and Gregory Minissale	104
Weak Painting Alex Bacon	110
"To balance the light and the dark" Shannon Novak and Gregory Minissale	126
The Painterly and the In-Between Peter Shand	132
The City and the Psyche: Painting Now Julian McKinnon and Hugo Koha Lindsay	149
"Split peaches are pretty obvious!" Imogen Taylor and Victoria Wynne-Jones	158
Quatrain, or The Ethics of Relating Anoushka Akel, Patrick Lundberg, James Cousins and Suzanne Hudson	168		