

Table of contents

12–113	Hartmut Berghoff – From solo craftsman Florenz Sartorius to the Sartorius Group. Metamorphoses of a family business
16–47	From workshop to industrial company (1870 to 1945)
48–79	Economic reconstruction and the advent of globalization (1945 to 1989)
80–113	Publicly listed and manager-led. Toward global leadership (1990 to 2020)
114–159	Christian Kleinschmidt – Internationalization
118–123	The age of the world expositions: Sartorius' pre-1914 export focus
124–127	World War I and interwar period: setbacks in internationalization
128–139	Post-1945: return to the world market
140–149	Upheaval 1989–90: transformation and globalization
150–159	Growth in the new millennium
160–245	Luitgard Marschall, Stephan H. Lindner – The utmost precision. Balances and filters for research and industry
166–207	Weighing technology
208–241	Separation technology
242–245	Outlook: "We are building a new group"
246–279	Appendix
248–266	Remarks
267–270	Bibliography
271–272	Index of names
273–274	Index of companies
275–276	List of sources
277–277	Photo and picture credits
279–279	Curricula vitae of the authors