

Contents

Foreword by Hans Ehlert vii

Translator's Note ix

Introduction 1

1. The Eastern Front: Geopolitics, Geography, and Operations 11

Hew Strachan

Part 1. The Battles on the Eastern Front, 1914–1915

2. Introductory Remarks 29

Stig Förster

3. In the Shadow of the West: The German Conduct of War on the Eastern Front up to the End of 1915 35

Gerhard P. Gross

4. Russia versus Germany: The Eastern Front of the First World War from 1914 to 1915 53

Boris Khavkin

5. Of Bastards and Brothers in Arms: Practical Constraints and Resentments among the Central Powers in 1914–1915 75

Günther Kronenbitter

Part 2. The Battlefields of Concepts / Concepts of the Battlefields: The Eastern Front of the First World War and Perceptions of the Enemy

6. Introductory Remarks 101

Jörg Baberowski

7. The Creation of an Identity for the Modern Polish Nation in the First World War, 1914–1915 108

Piotr Szlanta

8. The Germans: Russian Perceptions of the Enemy 120

Hubertus F. Jahn

9. The Slavic Peoples: The Central Powers' Self-Concept and Concept of the Enemy 133

Peter Hoeres

10. All Quiet on the Eastern Front: German Literature and the Eastern Front of the First World War 158
Eva Horn
11. August 1914: Alexander Solzhenitsyn and Russian Wartime Literature of the Early Years of the War 173
Birgit Menzel
12. The Reality of War and the War Experience of Russian Soldiers on the Russian Western Front, 1914–1915 192
Igor Narskij
13. The War in the East of 1914–1915 and the Experience of the German
Military 206
Hans-Erich Volkmann
14. From Ober Ost to Ostland? 245
Vejas Gabriel Liulevicius

Part 3. The Culture of Remembrance of the First World War

15. Introductory Remarks 265
Rainer Rother
16. War Exhibitions: Forms of Presentation of the World War for the Homeland Front 269
Christine Beil
17. Suppressed Remembrances: On the History of the Moscow City Fraternal
Cemetery 287
Kristiane Janeke
18. The Unknown Soldier 305
Rainer Rother
19. The First World War on the Internet 325
Gundula Bavendamm
20. Prologue to the “War of Annihilation”? The Eastern Front of the First World War and the Problem of Continuities 345
Rüdiger Bergien

List of Contributors 363

Index 365

Maps follow page 172