PREPARATORY PART

Various Ways to Ask about the Thing	1
§1. Philosophical and Scientific Questioning	1
§2. The Ambiguous Discourse about the Thing	3
§3. The Strangeness of the Question Concerning Thingness in Contrast with Scientific and Technical Methods	5
§4. Everyday and Scientific Experiences of the Thing: The Question Concerning Their Truth	7
§5. Particularity and In-Each-Case-Thisness: Space and Time as Thing-Determinations	10
§6. The Thing as "In Each Case This"	16
§7. Subjective-Objective. The Question Concerning Truth	17
§8. The Thing as Bearer of Properties	21
§9. The Essential Construction of Truth, the Thing, and the Proposition	23
§10. The Historicity of the Definition of the Thing	25
§11. Truth—Proposition (Assertion)—Thing	29
§12. Historicity and Decision	32
§13. Summary	35

MAIN PART

Kant's Way of Asking about the Thing	37
---	----

Chapter 1

The Historical Basis of Kant's Critique of Pure Reason	37
---	----

§14. The Reception of Kant's Work during His Lifetime; Neo-Kantianism	38
--	----

§15. The Title of Kant's Chief Work	41
-------------------------------------	----

§16. The Categories as Modes of Assertedness	42
--	----

§17. Λόγος—Ratio—Reason	43
-------------------------	----

§18. Modern Mathematical Natural Science and the Emergence of a Critique of Pure Reason	44
--	----

a) Characterization of Modern Natural Science in Contrast to Ancient and Medieval Science	45
--	----

b) The Mathematical, μάθησις	47
------------------------------	----

c) The Mathematical Character of Modern Science: Newton's First Law of Motion	52
--	----

d) Setting the Greek Experience of Nature into Relief against the Modern	55
---	----

α) The Experience of Nature in Aristotle and Newton	55
---	----

β) The Theory of Motion in Aristotle	56
--------------------------------------	----

γ) The Theory of Motion in Newton	58
-----------------------------------	----

e) The Essence of Mathematical Projection (Galileo's Freefall Experiment)	61
--	----

f) The Metaphysical Sense of the Mathematical	65
---	----

α) The Principles: Modern Freedom, Self-Binding, and Self-Grounding	65
--	----

β) Descartes: cogito sum ; the I as subiectum par excellence	67
--	----

γ) Reason as Highest Ground: Principle of the I, Principle of Contradiction	72
--	----

§19. History of the Question Concerning the Thing: Summary	73
--	----

§20. Rational Metaphysics (Wolff, Baumgarten)	76
---	----

Chapter 2

The Question of the Thing in Kant's Chief Work	83
---	----

§21. What Does Kant Mean by "Critique"?	83
---	----

§22. The Relation between the "Critique" of Pure Reason and the "System of All Principles of the Pure Understanding"	85
---	----

§23.	Interpretation of the Second Chapter of the [Second Book of the] Transcendental Analytic: “System of All Principles of Pure Understanding”	86
a)	Kant’s Concept of Experience	88
b)	The Thing as Thing of Nature	89
c)	The Threefold Division of the Chapter on the System of Principles	91
§24.	On the Highest Principle of All Analytic Judgments. Cognition and Object (A 150ff./B 190ff.)	92
a)	Cognition as Human Cognition	93
b)	Intuition and Thought as the Two Components of Cognition	94
c)	The Twofold Determination of the Object in Kant	96
d)	Sensibility and Understanding: Receptivity and Spontaneity	98
e)	The Apparent Priority of Thought; Pure Understanding in Relation to Pure Intuition	100
f)	Logic and Judgment in Kant	103
§25.	Kant’s Essential Definition of Judgment	106
a)	The Traditional Doctrine of Judgment	106
b)	The Insufficiency of the Traditional Doctrine; Logicism [Logistik]	108
c)	The Relatedness of the Judgment to the Object and to Intuition; Apperception	109
d)	Kant’s Distinction between Analytic and Synthetic Judgments	111
e)	A Priori — A Posteriori	115
f)	How Are Synthetic Judgments A Priori Possible?	116
g)	The Principle of Contradiction as the Negative Condition of the Truth of Judgment	118
h)	The Principle of Contradiction as Negative Formulation of the Principle of Identity	120
i)	Kant’s Transcendental Reflection: General and Transcendental Logic	121
j)	Synthetic Judgments A Priori Necessarily Lie at the Basis of All Cognition	124
§26.	On the Supreme Principle of All Synthetic Judgments	126
§27.	Systematic Representation of All Synthetic Principles of Pure Understanding	127
a)	The Principles Make Possible the Objectivity of the Object: Demonstrability of the Principles	127
b)	Pure Understanding as Source and Faculty of Rules: Unity, Categories	128

c) The Mathematical and Dynamical Principles as Metaphysical Propositions	131
d) The Axioms of Intuition	134
α) Quantum and Quantitas	134
β) Space and Time as Quanta , as Forms of Pure Intuition	135
γ) The Proof of the First Principle; All Principles Are Grounded in the Supreme Principle of All Synthetic Judgments	138
e) The Anticipations of Perception	141
α) Ambiguity of the Word “Sensation”; the Doctrine of Sensation and Modern Natural Science	142
β) Kant’s Concept of Reality: Intensive Magnitudes	145
γ) Sensation in Kant in the Transcendental Sense; Proof of the Second Principle	148
δ) The Strangeness of the Anticipations: Reality and Sensation	151
ε) Mathematical Principles and the Supreme Principle: The Circularity of the Proofs	152
f) The Analogies of Experience	154
α) Analogy as Correspondence, as Relation of Relations, as Determination of Thatness [Daßseins]	154
β) The Analogies as Rules of Universal Time-Determination	156
γ) The First Analogy and Its Proof; Substance as Time-Determination	159
g) The Postulates of Empirical Thought	161
α) Objective Reality of the Categories: the Modalities as Subjective Synthetic Principles	161
β) The Postulates Correspond to the Essence of Experience: The Modalities Are Related to Experience, No Longer to Conceivability	163
γ) Being as the Being of Objects of Experience: Modalities in Relation to the Cognitive Power	164
δ) The Circularity of the Proofs and Elucidations	165
h) The Supreme Principle of All Synthetic Judgments: the Between	166
Conclusion	169
