

Contents

Preface — v

Introduction

I The Papyrus — 3

- 1 Recovery and Scholarly Reception — 3
- 1.1 Otto Rubensohn's Excavations at Abū Šīr al-Malaq — 3
- 1.2 The Papyri Dismantled From Abū Šīr al-Malaq Cartonnages Between Fundort and Schreibort — 7
- 1.3 A Brief Editorial History of Two Forgotten Works — 17
- 2 Anatomy and Features of the Roll — 19
- 2.1 Dimensions, Format and Stichometry — 19
- 2.2 Script, Syllabification, Orthography, Mistakes, Corrections and Punctuation — 26

II The Origin, Nature and Purpose of the Contents of the Papyrus — 32

- 1 A Collection of Excerpts ad usum scholarum — 32
- 1.1 P.Berol. inv. 13045 and Hellenistic Prose Anthologies — 32
- 1.2 A Collection of Texts Composed for the Rhetorical Stage of Education? — 37
- 2 Some Thoughts on the Authorship of the Works Gathered in the Collection — 47
- 2.1 P.Berol. inv. 13045: Between Oratory and Historiography — 47
- 2.2 The Importance of Some Parallel Cases for a Better Contextualisation of the Dialogue — 57
- 2.3 A New Fragment of Hegesias of Magnesia's Οἱ φιλαθήναιοι (FGrHist 142)? — 65

III The Papyrus' Contribution in Historical and Historiographical Terms — 87

- 1 The Eulogy of the Lagid Monarchy and the Ptolemaic Ideology of Kingship — 87
- 1.1 A Rare Fragment of Hellenistic Oratory? — 87
- 1.2 The Superiority of Monarchy as a Divine πολιτεία (A I) — 89
- 1.3 The Representation of Alexandria as a Universal City (A II) — 93
- 1.4 The Portrayal of the Ideal King: Between specula principis and Stock Virtues (A III) — 96

2	The Dialogue Between Demades and Dinarchus: General Issues and Specific Historical Problems — 102
2.1	Previous Scholarship on the Demades Papyrus (Demad. F 91 DF; BNJ 227 F 58) — 102
2.2	A New Interpretation of the Trial of Demades at the Court of Pella — 104
2.3	Demades' Letters to Perdiccas and the Literary Transmission of Macedonian Royal Archives — 136
2.4	Dinarchus of Corinth's Career: A Prosopographical Issue — 146
2.5	The Account of Demosthenes' Suicide (B II): The Shadow of Demochares? — 155
2.6	Demades and Perdiccas' Marriage Alliances (D II) — 160
2.7	The Athenian Embassy to Perdiccas and the Question of the Samian Cleruchy (D II–III) — 170
2.8	The Portrayal of Demades as a τύραννος: A Motif of the Late Classical Athenian Democratic Ideology and Rhetoric? — 187
2.9	Some Provisional Conclusions — 210

Edition and Translation

Siglorum et compendiorum explicatio — 221

Editorial Note — 223

A Eulogy of the Lagid Monarchy (P.Berol. inv. 13045, cols. A I–III) — 225

The Dialogue between Demades and Dinarchus at the Macedonian Court (P.Berol. inv. 13045, cols. B I–G III) — 234

Commentary

A Eulogy of the Ptolemaic Monarchy (P.Berol. inv. 13045, cols. A I–III) — 299

A I: A Herodotean Constitutional Debate — 299

A II: Praise of Alexandria's Universal Role — 304

A III: The Stock Virtues of the Ideal King — 310

The Dialogue between Demades and Dinarchus at the Macedonian Court — 315

- B I, fr. i–ii: Antipater’s Demand for the Surrender of the Athenian Orators (?) — 315
- B II, fr. i–ii: The Account of Demosthenes’ Suicide — 319
- B III: The Athenian Defeat at Crannon and Perdiccas’ Schemes in Asia Minor — 325
- B IV: The Removal of the Macedonian Garrison From Munychia (?) — 333
- C I: The Arrest of Demades and Demeas at Pella — 335
- C II: Demades παρηγιακτήc — 341
- C III: The Intervention of the Athenian Envoys — 346
- D I: — 355
- D II: Perdiccas’ Marriage Alliances — 359
- D III: Demades, Perdiccas and the Samian Cleruchy — 365
- E I: The Betrayed Hearth — 369
- E II: From Oarsmanship to Tyranny — 377
- F I: The Eupatridae at the Rhetor’s Court — 386
- F II: Demades Between Hipparchus and Harmodius — 395
- G I: Dinarchus and the Forged Letters — 401
- G II: Towards the Capital Sentence — 415
- G III: — 422
- Unpublished Fragments — 423