

Table of Contents

Contributors	xi
Introduction: The Play's the Thing!	1
1. The Story of Cressida's Body: The Rebellion of Survivorship in Troilus and Cressida (and Our Responsibility in Storytelling) (Rebels) OLIVIA BUNTAINE	11
2. Smiling, Damned Villains: The Pleasure of Not Caring (Villains) BRIAN LOHMANN	19
3. Re-"Claiming from the Female": Shakespeare's Henry V (Monarchs) JANNA SEGAL	31
4. Othello: In the Age of Black Lives Matter and DACA (Lovers) BARON KELLY	51
5. "He that plays the King shall be welcome" (Villains) ARMIN SHIMERMAN	57
6. Through Hamlet's Eyes (Monarchs) TIMOTHY HARRIS	69
7. "In Boy, go first. You houseless povertie . . . ": Social Justice and Transformation in King Lear (Rebels) CHARLES DUFF	79
8. My Poor Fool: Dramatic Implications for Single, Double, and Dual Casting Cordelia and the Fool in King Lear (Monarchs) JESSIE LEE MILLS	91
9. Measure for Measure (Monarchs) ELAINE TURNER	109

10. Caliban in Love (Lovers)	121
SUSAN GAYLE TODD
11. Behind Closed Doors: Sex, Lies and Servants (Villains)	137
EDIT VILLARREAL
12. “ Very fine people . . . ” (Villains)	157
LOUIS FANTASIA	