

Table of Contents

Christopher GoGwilt, Holt Meyer

Introduction — 1

Before Westernness

Christoph Mauntel

Competing with the East

Geographic Ideas and Cultural Self-assessments of the West in Medieval Latin-Christian Thinking — 11

The Westernness of Philosophy

Markus Vinzent

‘What is foreign becomes close and what is close becomes foreign’. Ethics and Geography in the Works of Meister Eckhart — 45

Heiner F. Klemme

Self-Conceptions of Reason in Kant

Why reason matters to us — 57

Pirmin Stekeler-Weithofer

On the Universal Notion of a Person

How a man without qualities can shed light on globalized Western culture — 67

The Westernness of Orientalism

Ottfried Fraisse

Ignác Goldziher’s Perspective from the Margins of Europe: Historicizing Islam Between East and West — 89

Lena Salaymeh

The “good Orientalists” — 105

The Westernness of Europe

Johannes Gleixner and Vratislav Doubek

In the Center But Not in the Middle: T. G. Masaryk and Czech Geopolitical Discussions in the Late 19th and Early 20th Centuries — 139

The Westernness of (The) Americans

Christopher GoGwilt

Televising the West: The Television Set of The Americans — 163

Holt Meyer

Russian Orthodoxy as Constitutive of Westernness in The Americans — 179

Yulia Penner

Western Reflections: The Mirrored Real and the Imaginary in The Americans — 203

After Westernness

Christopher GoGwilt

Reinventing the West: The Invention of the West 25 Years Later — 223

Christopher GoGwilt

A Brief Genealogy of the West — 231

About the Authors — 259