

Contents

Acknowledgements — XI

Foreword — XV

Preface — XIX

The Polish Background — XXI

Table of Population and Percentage of Jews — XXIX

Introduction: The Pulse of the City — 1

Part One: Origins to World War I — 13

Earliest Record — 13

The Gmina — 14

The Ghetto — 18

Assimilation and Acculturation — 20

Brotherhood and Enlightenment — 22

Henryk Markusfeld — 26

Kheyder and the Cycle of Poverty — 27

Vocational Training and Philanthropy — 31

Religious Innovations — 34

High Culture: Lira and the Jewish Literary Society — 38

Industry and Commerce — 40

The Pogrom of 1902 — 46

The Labor Movement, Part 1 — 49

Part Two: The German Occupation and Political “Democratization” — 52

Part Three: The Second Polish Republic and “Democratization” — 57

Municipal Councils — 59

The Pogrom of 1919 — 62

The Labor Movement, Part 2 — 63

Part Four: Culture — 69

- The Press — 69
- Libraries — 72
- Sports — 73
- Theater — 76
- Modern Education — 77
- TOZ — 81
- Political Legitimacy — 81

Part Five: Jewish Political Parties — 83

- The Center — 84
 - General Zionism — 84
 - Folkism — 87
 - Labor Zionism – Right and Left — 89
- The Right — 92
 - Mizrachi — 92
 - Agudas yisroel — 93
 - Zionist Revisionism — 98
 - Assimilationism — 99
- The Left — 101
 - Territorialism — 101
 - The Bund and Communism — 104
 - The Common Culture of the Left — 109
 - Hashomer hatzair — 112

Part Six: Recovery and Economic Assault — 114

- Industry, Commerce, and Antisemitism — 115
- The Pogrom of 1937 — 121
- On the Eve of War — 122

Part Seven: 1939–1946 — 127

- The Occupation and the Judenrat — 127
- The Big Ghetto — 136
- The Small Ghetto — 148
- The Revolt in Treblinka — 153
- The Rebellion in Częstochowa — 153
- Möbellager — 157
- HASAG — 158

Part Eight: Aftermath — 165

Fear of Return — 165

Displaced Persons Camps in Germany — 172

Part Nine: Rescuing Memory — 174

Bibliography — 179

Abbreviations — 183

Index — 185