

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	7
Map of South Omo	8
Günther Schlee Preface	9
Echi Christina Gabbert Introduction	13
Ivo Strecker Modalities of cultural neighborhood. A view from Hamar	29
Susanne Eppe Culture, contact, and identity. The multiethnic composition of the Bashada of southern Ethiopia	47
Felix Girke Bondfriendship in the cultural neighborhood. Dyadic ties and their public appreciation in South Omo	68
Toru Sagawa Local potential for peace. Trans-ethnic cross-cutting ties among the Daasanech and their neighbors	99
Yvan Houtteman Murder as a marker of ethnicity. Ideas and practices concerning homicide among the Daasanech	128
Echi Gabbert Mountains for each other. Insights into Arbore – Wata Wando relationships	157
Yukio Miyawaki The interethnic relationship between the Hor and Ts'amakko	186
Graziano Savà and Sophia Thubauville The Ongota. A branch of the Maale? Ethnographic, historic and linguistic traces of contact of the Ongota people	213
Nicole Poissonnier Favourite enemies. The case of the Konso	236

Sophia Thubauville

Amity through intermarriage. Some outcomes of a workshop on inter-marriage between the Maale, Aari and Banna people of southern Ethiopia 252

Gebre Yntiso

Language contact and its consequences in Aari 268

Shauna LaTosky and Louren Nakali

The realities of Reality TV in a Nyangatom village 288

Jean Lydall

The paternalistic neighbor. A tale of the demise of cherished traditions 314

Contributors 335

Index of names 337

Subject index 349