

Content

Editors' note	XI
Georgina Herrmann	XIII
Georgina Herrmann: Bibliography 1967–2021	XVII

Ivories

Annie Caubet

From Arslan Tash to Ugarit: Remarks on ivory beds, suckling cows and grazing deer	3
---	---

Serena Maria Cecchini

The stele of Melqart: A reappraisal	21
---	----

Megan Cifarelli

Another look at the Hasanlu ivories	39
---	----

Paul Collins

Some thoughts on the Assyrian ivories from the Temple of Nabû at Nimrud	69
---	----

Harriet Crawford

An essay on time and distance	83
-------------------------------------	----

John Curtis

A bronze lotus flower handle from Nimrud	89
--	----

Stephanie Dalley

Narrative art and the Hasanlu beaker: Proposal for a coherent interpretation linked to Gilgamesh	107
--	-----

Eric Gubel

Phoenician lionesses devouring Nubians and the Egyptian myth of the Distant Goddess (Decoding Phoenician Art – IV)	127
--	-----

Muzahim Mahmoud Hussein

Methods of draining and directing water discovered in the palaces and temples of Nimrud	145
---	-----

Stefania Mazzoni

Ivories in the debate on the Iron I–II archaeology of Syria	159
---	-----

Alan Millard
Fitters' letters	177
Julian Edgeworth Reade
Archaeological encounters in 1960s Iraq	187
Elizabeth Simpson
Carved ivory plaques from Megaron 3 at Gordion	211
Claudia E. Suter
An unusual ivory panel from Samaria and the composition and realia of banquet scenes in the Iron Age Levant	233
Dirk Wicke
Images across media: Comparative remarks on some Levantine ivories and metal bowls	251
Rock Reliefs
Vesta Sarkhosh Curtis
Further thoughts on Varegna, the royal falcon, and Verethragna, the victorious warrior god	285
Judith A. Lerner
Some thoughts on the so-called 'Gayomard seals'	299
Prudence O. Harper
Sasanians reimagined: Four Qajar drawings	311
Robert Hillenbrand
From rags to riches: The development of the zone of transition in pre-Mongol Iranian dome chambers	327
John MacGinnis
A Parthian manor on the Lower Zab	347
Bruno Overlaet
Sasanian royalty at Naqsh-e Rostam: Documenting and interpreting rock reliefs	365
Ursula Seidl
Aphrodite mit Eros in der sasanidischen Kunst	387
Merv
Warwick Ball
'Little Merv': Notes on Marv al-Rud, or 'Merv of the River'	401

Antonio Invernizzi

A throne for Mithridates in Nisa? Ivory furnishings in Central Asia 417

Kathy Judelson

Working alongside Georgina, 1992–2000 441

Gabriele Puschnigg

Sasanian perspectives: From antiquity to the medieval period 445

Nataliya Smirnova

Parthian coins from Merv held in the collection of the Pushkin Museum (Moscow) 463

Helen Wang

Money on the Silk Road – twenty years on 499

Colour plates