

Contents

1	Introduction	1
Part I Fiscal Union with Common Debts: The Road to Risk Communitisation?
2	Eurobonds: A Turning Point for Europe	7
2.1	Eurobonds as a Recurring Proposal for Crisis Solution	8
2.2	Legal Concerns	10
2.3	Entry into a Fiscal and Liability Union	12
2.4	Regulatory Justification	14
2.5	Possibilities for the Design of Eurobonds	15
2.6	Possible Advantages of Eurobonds	17
2.7	Redistribution, Incentives and Capital Misallocation	21
2.8	Proposed Variants	22
2.9	Summary	24
	References	25

3	European Safe Bonds: Pooling at a Snail's Pace	29
3.1	On the Importance and Functioning of European Safe Bonds	30
3.2	Problem Areas	34
3.3	Alternatives	37
3.4	Summary	38
	References	39
4	European Unemployment Insurance	41
4.1	Basic Considerations	42
4.2	Andor Plan	43
4.3	Problematic Aspects	45
4.4	Entry into a Social Union?	48
4.5	Temporary Support Mitigating Unemployment Risks in Emergency (SURE)	49
4.6	Summary	50
	References	50
5	European Monetary Fund: The EU Commission's Proposal—Construct Leaves Extensive Room for Maneuver	53
5.1	History of the EMF, Procedure and Intention of the European Commission	54
5.2	Transition of the ESM into an EMF	59
5.3	Changed Decision-Making Structures: EU Finance Ministers and the European Parliament	62
5.4	Emergency Fund and Backstop for the Bank Resolution Fund (SRF)	65
5.5	Integration of Additional Funds into the EMF	69
5.6	The EMF in the Tension Field of Three Conflict Lines	72

	Contents	xiii
5.7	Summary	75
	References	76
6	European Reconstruction Fund—Emergency Aid or Permanent Fiscal Union with Joint Debt?	81
6.1	Next Generation EU: The Way to a Fiscal Union with Transfer Elements	82
6.2	European Credit Financing—An Overview	85
6.3	For the Legal Incorporation of an EU Credit Financing	89
6.4	To Justify the Recovery and Resilience Facility (NGEU) under Article 122 TFEU	91
6.5	Partial Liability—Guarantees with Joint Liability	95
6.6	Possible Dangers	98
6.7	Alternatives	100
6.8	Summary	102
	References	103
Part II	Monetary Policy in the Service of (Crisis) States—Fiscal Dominance
7	Debt Relief in Times of Need: The ECB as Lender of Last Resort for States?	113
7.1	Basic Concepts of the Term Monetary State Financing	115
7.2	Legal Aspects	116
7.3	Alternative Options for an ECB Debt Relief	118
7.3.1	Immediate Write-Off	119
7.3.2	ESCB-Depreciation Bonds or Compensation Claims	120

7.4	Economic Aspects of Monetization	125
7.5	Scenario Analysis	128
7.5.1	Debt Relief in the Amount of the Reconstruction Fund	130
7.5.2	Debt Relief of 60% of National GDP (2019)	133
7.6	Summary	138
	References	139
8	ECB Bonds: An Instrument in Times of Inflation and for State Financing	145
8.1	Inflation Could Make a Reduction in the ECB's Money Supply Necessary	146
8.2	A Rollback of the Extraordinary Monetary Policy is Facing Problems	148
8.3	What Are Central Bank Bonds?	151
8.4	History: Central Bank Bonds Are Not New	153
8.4.1	Experiences of Other Countries Outside the Currency Union	154
8.4.2	Central Bank Bonds Before the Third Stage of the Currency Union	157
8.4.3	ECB Bonds	160
8.5	Case Study: NB-SV with Different Objectives in Stylized ECB Balance Sheets	162
8.5.1	Passive Exchange to Absorb Excess Liquidity of Commercial Banks	162
8.5.2	Balance Sheet Extension Due to Foreign Exchange Purchases	164

	8.5.3	Extension of the Balance Sheet Due to Fiscally Motivated Government Bond Purchases	165
8.6		Special Aspects of Central Bank Bonds in the EU	165
	8.6.1	Capital Market Union and Reserve Currency	166
	8.6.2	Central Bank Bonds as a Surrogate for Money?	167
	8.6.3	ECB Bonds Are Interest-Bearing—Effects on Seigniorage	171
	8.6.4	Permanent Storage of Government Debt—ECB Bonds as Euro Bonds	172
8.7		Summary	175
		References	176

Part III Euro Exit: Legally Possible and Economically Sensible

9	Legal Possibilities for Withdrawal from the Euro and the Reintroduction of Currency Sovereignty	185
9.1	Historical Comparison of Currency Unions—Circumstances and Influencing Factors of a Disintegration	186
9.2	Legal Possibilities of Leaving the Euro	190
9.3	Transfer of Sovereignty over Currency and Establishment of a Currency Statute	198

9.4	Summary	203
	References	204
10	Currency Denomination: On the Question of the Currency of Debt in Old Contracts in the Event of Withdrawal from the Euro from a German Perspective	209
10.1	Basic Legal Relationships	210
10.2	Legal Consequences of Different Case Constellations	216
10.2.1	Case a and b: Currency Secession/Separation of a Currency Area	216
10.2.2	Case c: Currency Fragmentation	216
10.2.3	Case d: National Parallel Currencies	222
10.3	Exchange Law and Exchange Obligation	223
10.4	Summary	224
	References	225
11	Roadmap for Withdrawal from the Euro: Technical Preparation, Legal and Practical Implementation from the Perspective of a Withdrawing State	231
11.1	Announcement and Legal Implementation	232
11.2	Capital Movements Induced by Adaption of a New Currency	236
11.3	Disintegration Inflation and Exit Competition	239
11.4	Logistical Challenges	242
11.5	Exit Costs	247
11.6	Summary	249
	References	250

12	Greece's Withdrawal from the Euro: One Possible Scenario	255
12.1	Checking the Conditions for a Third Aid Package (2015)	256
12.2	The State Bankruptcy Triggers a Credit Event	259
12.3	(Imminent) Economic and Social Chaos in Greece	261
12.4	"Geuro" on a Government Debt Basis	262
12.5	Problems Arise Quickly	264
12.6	Asset-Based Funding of the Neä Drachmä	266
12.7	Summary	270
	References	271
13	The Continuity of the European Monetary Union is Called into Question by Italy	275
13.1	Lack of Potential and Motivation: Withdrawal of the Basis of Trust	276
13.2	The Trilemma and Options for Action	280
13.3	Summary	282
	References	283
14	Mini-Bots: A "Lira" as a Parallel Currency for Italy?	285
14.1	Mini-Bots/"Liro" on Government Bond Basis	286
14.2	Rent.M—IOW—"Geuro"—"Liro": A Comparison	290
14.3	Will Italy's Problems be Solved with a "Liro"?	294

14.4	Dangers for the Eurozone and the EU	297
14.5	Summary	301
	References	302

Part IV Alternatives: Parallel Currency and Sovereign Money

15	Parallel Currencies as a Lisbon-Conform Crisis Solution	307
15.1	To the Starting Position	309
15.2	Requirements Catalogue for a Crisis Solution	310
15.3	Admission of National Currencies Parallel to the Euro	313
15.4	Political and Legal Implementation	317
15.5	For the Legal Insertion into the European Treaties	322
	15.5.1 Normal Case (A-States)	324
	15.5.2 States in Insolvency (B-States)	327
15.6	Advantages of the Concept	329
	15.6.1 Compliance with the Prohibition on Aid and Monetary Independence	330
	15.6.2 Economic Stability	332
	15.6.3 Balance Sheet Effects	333
	15.6.4 Repatriation of Euro Cash Balances	338
	15.6.5 Distribution Effects	338
	15.6.6 Practability of the Concept: Acceptance and Cash Emission	340
15.7	Summary	341
	References	342

16	Community Currency with a Purchasing Power Guarantee Based on Capital: The Concept of a Hard Euro Backed by Capital	347
16.1	The Idea of the Compensated Gold Dollar	348
16.2	Capital-Backed Hard Euro: Characteristics and Introduction	350
16.3	Mode of Operation and Stability Conditions	357
16.4	Value Protection Guarantee and Accounting	363
16.5	Transformation of Monetary Orders	369
16.5.1	Phase 1: Euro and KHE as Parallel Currencies	369
16.5.2	Phase 2: KHE as Monopoly Currency	370
16.6	Independence of the Central Bank and Monetary Policy in the KHE System	375
16.7	The Monetary System as an Entry into the State Economy?	377
16.8	A New Monetary System	382
16.9	Summary	386
	References	387
Index		391