

Table of Contents

List of Illustrations	xi
Acknowledgments	xiii
Translators' Introduction	1
NORM FRIESEN AND KARSTEN KENKLIES
1. Friedrich Daniel Ernst Schleiermacher, 1768–1834	2
2. Provenance and Publication of the Lecture	3
3. Schleiermacher's Introductory Lecture: Overview	4
4. Schleiermacher's Terminology	8
5. Schleiermacher's Dialectical Style	14
6. Individual Chapters	16
7. Conclusion	18
References	19
Outlines of the Art of Education: Introduction	21
F.D.E. SCHLEIERMACHER
1. Common View: Technique of Domestic Tutor and School Teacher	21
2. Foundation of a Scientific Inquiry	24
3. The Dignity of Pedagogy Presented in Formal Terms; Seen in Itself as a Theory of an Art	24
4. Considered in Relation to Politics	27
5. Defining Our Task Further	29
6. Inner and Outer Questions	30
7. The Extreme of the Omnipotence of Education	35
8. [The Impotence or Limitations of Education]	36
9. [Omnipotence versus Self-Activity]	36
10. Universally Valid Pedagogy	37

11. What Form Should Our Theory Have?	37
12. Factual Foundations	38
13. Sphere of the Applicability of Pedagogy	40
14. Defining the End Point of Education for the Present Time	47
15. How to Consider Contradictions between the Different Realms of Life?	47
16. The Significance of Our Theory	50
17. Universal and Individual Education	52
18. Are People Equal or Unequal in Relation to the Universal and Individual Direction of Education?	54
19. Equality or Inequality with Regard to the Universal Direction [of Education]?	55
20. What Would Be Implied for Our Task By	56
20.1. Presupposing the Equality [of All People with Regard to Both Directions of Education]?	56
20.2. Presupposing the Inequality [of All People with Regard to Both Directions of Education]?	57
21. The Task of Education Insofar as It Must Proceed from Existing Inequality	61
22. Equality or Inequality with Regard to the Individual Direction [of Education]	65
23. Is One Allowed to Sacrifice One Moment for Another?	66
24. To What Extent Do All the Different Pedagogical Influences Form a Unity?	72
25. How Do Supporting and Counteracting Relate to One Another?	75
26. How Do the Two Forms of Education [Support and Counteraction] Relate to the Other Factors That [Externally] Influence the Child?	78
27. Who Should Educate?	80
28. If and to What Extent Is Education the Same for Both Sexes?	83
Interpretations and Discussion	87
1. Schleiermacher's Pedagogy: A Thematic Commentary	89
MICHAEL WINKLER
1. Education as Wissenschaft	91
2. The “Rationality” of Pedagogy	92
3. The Development of Schleiermacher's Ideas in the 1813–1814 Lecture	94
4. 1826: Educational Theory Comes of Age	97
5. Positioning Pedagogy as a Discipline	100

5.1 First Perspective: The Historical	101
5.2 Second Perspective: Pedagogy's Relation to Other Disciplines	101
5.3 Third Perspective: Theory in Itself	102
6. From Theory to Practice	103
7. Schleiermacher and Our "Non-Genetic Heritage"	106
8. Receptivity, Spontaneity and Self-Activity	109
9. Education as Support	111
10. Sociality and Subjectivity	113
11. Conclusion: Dreams and Limitations	115
References	116
2. The Educational Awareness of the Future	119
DAVID LEWIN
1. What Does It Mean to Be Oriented to the Future?	119
2. Are We All Interested in the Future?	124
3. Becoming Concerned	127
4. Be in the Now	131
5. Conclusion	134
References	135
3. Entering the Circle. Schleiermacher and the Rise of Modern Education Studies	139
KARSTEN KENKLIES
1. Introduction: First Sentences	139
2. Theoretical Considerations: The Hermeneutic Foundation of the Circle	140
2.1. The Possibility of Publicly Talking and Theorizing about Education	143
2.2. The Assumption of Successful Communication about Education	145
2.3. The Limitations of Publicly Talking and Theorizing about Education	145
2.4. The Beginning and Goal of Reflecting on Education	148
2.5. The Purpose of Reflecting	149
3. Practical Considerations: The Enacting of the Circle	151
4. Epilogue: Education Studies as Hermeneutic Academic Discipline	154
References	155
4. Schleiermacher's Educational Theory in the Context of the Debate on Vocational versus Liberal Education	157
REBEKKA HORLACHER

1. School Reforms in Prussia	159
2. Schleiermacher and National Education	163
3. Vocational or Liberal Education?	167
4. Conclusion	171
References	173
5. Accentuate the Negative: Schleiermacher's Dialectic	177
NORM FRIESEN
1. The Basic Characteristics of Schleiermacher's Dialectic	179
2. Dialectic as Style	182
3. Dialectic as Process	186
3.1. Schleiermacher's Method: A Close Reading	187
3.2. Schleiermacher's Methodology	193
4. Dialectic as Structure	203
5. Conclusion: The Dialectical Character of Educational Reflection	209
References	211
Contributors	213
Index	217