

CONTENTS

Darko DOLINAR
Introduction	7

I

Marko JUVAN, Ljubljana
On the Fate of the "Great" Genre.....	17
Janko KOS, Ljubljana
Old and New Models of Literary History	47
Lado KRALJ, Ljubljana
Literary History: How Much Science, How Much Fiction?	57
Vladimir BITI, Zagreb
In the Name of the Altogether Other.....	67
Peter ZAJAC, Berlin - Bratislava
Literary Historiography as a Synoptic Map	81
Ivan VERČ, Trieste
The Subject of an Utterance as an Object of Study of Literary History.....	89
Božena TOKARZ, Katowice
Literary History and Its Object.....	103
Darko DOLINAR, Ljubljana
Literary History and Its Readers	117
Marija MITROVIĆ, Trieste
The Energy of Delusion	131

II

Ivo POSPIŠIL, Brno
Literary History, Poststructuralism, Dilettantism, and Area Studies.....	141
Miloš ZELENKA, Prague
Manuscriptology and Its Significance for Literary History in the Context of Contemporary Methodology	153
Marijan DOVIČ, Ljubljana
The Writing of Literary History and the Empirical Science of Literature.....	169
Jola ŠKULJ, Ljubljana
Modernist Literature and the Change of Paradigm in Literary History	181
Alenka KORON, Ljubljana
Time Regained? On Narrative in Literary Historiography	199
Peter V. ZIMA, Klagenfurt
Historical Periods as Problematics: Sociolinguistic Situations, Sociolects, and Discourses	227
Janez STRUTZ, Klagenfurt
Dialogue, Polyphony, and System: On the Issue of a History of the “Small Literatures” in the Alps-Adriatic Region	237
Jelka KERNEV ŠTRAJN, Ljubljana
Memory as Fragment Woven into Text	265
Silvija BOROVIK, Maribor
A Feminist Glance into the Workshop of a Literary Historian.....	277
Name Index	289
Notes on Authors.....	299
Notes on Translators and Proofreaders	306