

Foreword 9

Acknowledgements 13

List of abbreviations 17

Introduction 19

Part One: The inner freedom

1. Reasons beyond logic in Herschian metaphilosophy 33

1.1 Clarifying reality. The literary deviation towards the hearth of philosophy 33

1.1.1 Les images dans l'oeuvre de M. Bergson 34

1.1.2 The original interest of Hersch's research 39

1.2. Enlightening existence. The discovery of freedom in the cracks of totality 41

1.2.1 Debts to Jaspers' philosophy 43

1.2.2 L'illusion philosophique 51

1.2.3 The duplicity of the human. The free choice of metaphysical truth 60

2. The human mission of incarnating value in Hersch's ontology .. 69

2.1 The interpretation of Kant 70

2.2 L'être et la forme 80

2.3 The unity of subjective life between absolute action and daily incarnation 94

2.4 Adherence to necessity towards a gradual theory of freedom 102

Part Two: The outer conditions of liberty

3. The explicit sense of Hersch’s philosophy: from the theoretical core to the paradigm of freedom 111

3.1 The declination of the theoretical core between nature and freedom.. 111

3.2 The paradigm of freedom. Inner freedom, between existential freedom and ontological freedom 118

4. The social education of force in Hersch’s politics 123

4.1 Idéologies et réalité. Political liberty 125

4.2 The intersubjective responsibility of power in the reflection on practical antinomy 137

5. The Herschian exercise of responsible freedom in the fight for human rights 143

5.1 Le droit d’être un homme 144

5.2 The subjective responsibility of recognition in the experience of the practical antinomy 150

5.3 The paradigm of freedom. The outer conditions of liberty 164

Part Three: The practical philosophy

6. The “digestion” of science and technology at the service of the human 173

6.1 Bringing back the sense of scientific activities 173

6.2 A scientific humanism to reconcile the human being and science .. 180

7. The human ‘small duration’ of history and morality 183

7.1 Instant and time of nature in the development of existence 183

7.2 An existence that innovates tradition between history and morality .. 191

8. The pedagogical practice as a formation to freedom 197

8.1 The baby human as homo docilis 197

8.2 In anti-thesis to the nihilism of ‘everything is permitted’ 200

9. The concept of health between endurance and suppression of human limits	207
10. Enlightening the anemia of being. Synthesis and evaluation of Hersch's practical philosophy	211
10.1 The recovery of a wozu and a wohin for the contemporary homo novus	211
10.2 The doing with of an old teacher, between Socrates and Cato	219
10.3 The paradigm of freedom. Being is doing with	222
Conclusion: Herschian tradition as the gesture of existentialism. Data to be handed down, cracks to be innovated	227
Bibliography	239
Index of names	255
Index of subjects	257