

TABLE OF CONTENTS

|                 |                                                                                                                                                                            |      |
|-----------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|
|                 | List of Tables                                                                                                                                                             | ix   |
|                 | List of Figures                                                                                                                                                            | xi   |
|                 | Acknowledgements                                                                                                                                                           | xiii |
|                 | Foreword by Sonia Nieto                                                                                                                                                    | xv   |
|                 | Introduction                                                                                                                                                               | 1    |
| Part I:  | Roots &amp; Principles of PAR EntreMundos                                                                                                                           |      |
| Chapter 1       | Theoretical Lineages & Guiding PrinciplesJulio Cammarota, Jennifer Ayala, Melissa Rivera, Louie F. Rodríguez, Margarita Ines Berta-Ávila, and María Elena Torre | 19   |
| Part II: | PAR EntreMundos in Action                                                                                                                                           |      |
| Chapter 2       | The Praxis Project: Participatory Research Advocatingfor Excellence in SchoolsLouie F. Rodríguez                                                            | 39   |

|                  |                                                                                                                                                                 |     |
|------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter 3        | The Social Justice Education Project in Tucson, ArizonaJulio Cammarota                                                                               | 55  |
| Chapter 4        | A Creative Justice Approach to LearningMelissa Rivera, Cristina Medellin-Paz, and Pedro Pedraza                                                      | 71  |
| Chapter 5        | The New Jersey Urban Youth Research InitiativeJennifer Ayala, Mayida Zaal, Francisco De Jesus, and Stan Karp                                         | 89  |
| Chapter 6        | Education in Our Barrios Project, #BarrioEdProjEdwin Mayorga                                                                                         | 101 |
| Chapter 7        | Our Wild Tongues: Language Justice and Youth ResearchJenna Cushing-Leubner and Jennifer Eik                                                          | 117 |
| Part III: | PAR EntreMundos in the Context of Grow-Your-Own Initiatives                                                                                              |     |
| Chapter 8        | Participatory Action Research as a Pathway Into the Teaching Profession for Latinx and African-American YouthJason G. Irizarry                       | 137 |
| Chapter 9        | PAR EntreMundos: A “Critical” Approach for Latinx Teacher PreparationSusan Baker and Margarita Berta-Ávila                                           | 151 |
| Chapter 10       | “Students With Big Dreams That Just Need a Little Push”: Self-Empowerment, Activism, & Institutional Change Through PAR EntreMundosRubén A. González | 169 |
|                  | Conclusion                                                                                                                                                      | 201 |
|                  | Appendices                                                                                                                                                      | 215 |
|                  | Editor Bios                                                                                                                                                     | 245 |
|                  | Contributor Bios                                                                                                                                                | 249 |
|                  | Index                                                                                                                                                           | 255 |