

Table of Contents

Preface	ix
Acknowledgments	xv
Introduction: Pluralism, Music Education, and Philosophical Tradition	1
The Liberal Arts as Classical Education	8
Philosophical Traditions and their Conflicts	13
Understanding Music Education through the Classical Tradition	22
Part One: Traditions in Development	31
Chapter One: Foundations of the Western Tradition	33
Western Civilization and its Traditions	33
The Greek World in Context	37
Plato and the Idea of Education	40
Aristotle and Virtue in Community	45
The Impact of Hellenization and Early Christianity	51
Chapter Two: Realism and the Quest for Beauty	63
The World of Christendom	63
The Continuity of Tradition	69
Music and the Meaningful Cosmos	77

The Developing Liberal Arts	81
The Humanities and their Renaissances	88
Chapter Three: Reason and Inquiries for Truth	99
The European Enlightenment	99
Responses within the Liberal Tradition	106
The Aesthetic Experience of Music	111
Mechanical and Organic Pedagogy	117
Music Education as Aesthetic Education	128
Chapter Four: Transformation and the Will to Power	145
Contours of the Critical Framework	145
Critical Pedagogy	155
Critical Anti-Aesthetics	164
Praxial Music Education	172
Liquid and Immutable Identities	182
Part Two: Traditions in Operation	205
Chapter Five: The Classical Tradition and Music	207
The Nature of Musical Activity	208
The Meaning of the Musical Work	218
The Nature of Musical Listening	226
Chapter Six: The Classical Tradition and Education	247
The Purposes of Classical Education	247
The Content of Classical Education	259
Classical Education and the Common Good	267
Chapter Seven: The Classical Tradition and Music Education	283
The Materials of Music Education	283
Methods of Music Education	296
Music Education and Narrative Identity	306
Conclusion: Traditions in Conflict and Dialogue	325
Some Objections Considered	325
Diverging Paths Forward	330
Toward Dialogue and Resistance	333
Index	343