

Contents

Foreword and Acknowledgements — VII

Nicole Brisch and Fumi Karahashi

Introduction — 1

Yuko Matsumoto

Women's History and Gender History in Japan — 11

Part I: Businesswomen, Empresses, and Royal Women

Agnès Garcia-Ventura and Fumi Karahashi

Socio-Economic Aspects and Agency of Female Maš-da-ri-a Contributors in Presargonic Lagash — 25

Katsuji Sano

The Role of Women in Assyrian Foreign Policy — 45

Yoko Watai

Women Involved in Daily Management in Achaemenid Babylonia: The Cases of Rē'indu and Andiya — 63

Huang Haijing

Wu Zetian's Buddhist Policy: A New Perspective — 81

Part II: Priestesses

Seraina Nett

The Office and Responsibilities of the En Priestess of Nanna: Evidence from Votive Inscriptions and Documentary Texts — 95

Nicole Brisch

High Priestesses in Old Babylonian Nippur: The NIN and NIN-dingir Priestesses of Ninurta — 121

Ada Taggar-Cohen

Hittite Royal Ideology and the Uniqueness of the Priestess Titled NIN.
DINGIR — 141

Ulla Koch

The Roles of Women in the Practice of Ancient Mesopotamian
Divination — 163

Part III: Goddesses

Sophus Helle

Enheduana's Invocations: Form and Force — 189

Piotr Michalowski

On Language, Gender, Sex, and Style in the Sumerian Language — 209

Troels P. Arbøll

Venomous Scorpions and Venerable Women: The Relationship Between Scorpions, the Goddess Išhara, and Queens in the Neo-Assyrian
Period — 263

Carolina López-Ruiz

The Networks of Ashtart-Aphrodite and the Archaic Mediterranean
Koiné — 289

Nozomu Kawai

The Lioness Goddess Statuary from the Rock-Cut Chambers at Northwest Saqqara and Their Cult in Middle Kingdom Egypt — 303

Index — 339