

Table of Contents

| | |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| Introduction | 1 |
| LaRonda Sanders-Senu and Adria Y. Goldman | |
| A Critical Perspective on Issa Rae | 15 |
| Clint C. Wilson, II | |
| Section I: Hella Intersectional: Gender, Race, and Sexuality | 17 |
| Chapter One: The Pleasure Principle: Seeking the Erotic in the Works of Toni Morrison and Issa Rae | 19 |
| LaRonda Sanders-Senu | |
| Chapter Two: My Ho-tation, My Rules: Discussing New Sex Scripts for Black Women in insecure | 37 |
| Adria Y. Goldman | |
| Chapter Three: "Securely" Shifting the Gaze on Black Men | 67 |
| Andre Nicholson | |

| | |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| Section II: Funny AF?: Humor, Rhetoric, and Identity | 95 |
| Chapter Four: Hued, Humorous and Human: Interrogating the Rhetorical Significance of the “Awkward” in Issa Rae’s ABG Identity Ronisha W. Browdy | 97 |
| Chapter Five: “Because of Slavery”: insecure ’s Due North Narrative and Black Female Agency Joshua K. Wright | 113 |
| A Cultural Studies Perspective on Issa Rae David Ikard | 131 |
| Section III: Lowkey Home: Los Angeles and Gentrification | 137 |
| Chapter Six: It’s I-Wood Now: An Exploration of Gentrification in insecure Brittany-Rae Gregory and Sharifa Simon-Roberts | 139 |
| Chapter Seven: Hella Black and Hella Proud: How insecure Reshapes the LA Narrative Christian Dotson-Pierson | 157 |
| Section IV: Shady AF: Workplace and the Perils of White Allies | 181 |
| Chapter Eight: We Got Y’all?: insecure ’s Frieda and Issa Rae’s Cautionary Tales about Performative Allies Emily Ruth Rutter | 183 |
| Chapter Nine: White Liberalism and Woke Culture: Storylines in insecure Christopher K. Jackson | 197 |
| Chapter Ten: We Got Y’all: Black Feminism, Misogynoir, and Soul Work in Nonprofits Vanne-Paige Padgett | 213 |
| Section V: Digital-like: Issa and Her Audience | 229 |
| Chapter Eleven: insecure , Issa Dee, and Facebook: An Analysis of Black Women’s Conversation in Digital Spaces Morgan W. Smalls | 231 |
| Chapter Twelve: Big Complicated: Advertising, Algorithmic Bias and insecure Joanna L. Jenkins | 249 |
| A Multi-Hyphenated Lifestyle Perspective on Issa Rae Summer Jackson-Cole | 273 |

Final Thoughts: Walking Into the Next Season Like... 275
Joanna L. Jenkins and Andre Nicholson

Appendix A: The Cast of insecure 285

Appendix B: insecure Episode Titles by Season 287

Contributors 289