

Contents

Contributors	ix
Abbreviations	xi
Introduction	1
Part 1 – Envisioning and Planning for Virtualization	9
1 Aligning Goals, Virtuality and Capability: A Virtual Alignment Model
Paul Jackson and Jane Klobas	11
2 Envisioning and Monitoring the Process of Becoming Virtual
Paul Jackson and Jane Klobas	23
3 The Challenge of Becoming Virtual
Jane Klobas and Stefano Renzi.....	35
Part 2 – New Insights into Knowledge Management and Virtualization	53
4 Social Uncertainty in Virtual Organizations: A Preliminary Ontology of the Constituent Elements
Ivan Jensen and Paul Jackson	55
5 When Communities of Practice Fail: Community Ties and Organizational Commitment
Gaela Bernini and Jane Klobas	73
6 An Exploratory Survey of the Structure and Components of Organizational Memory
Paul Jackson.....	89

7 The Organization as a Transactive Memory System
Paul Jackson and Jane Klobas	111
8 Adoption of Technologies for Virtual Work
Stefano Renzi, Jane Klobas and Paul Jackson	135
9 Monitoring, Control and the Performance of Virtual Work
Paul Jackson, Jane Klobas and Hosein Gharavi	151
Part 3 – Understanding Virtualization	169
10 The Challenge of Becoming Virtual, Part 2
Jane Klobas	171
11 Reflections from the Frontline: The Journey of a Knowledge Manager
Louise Kjaer.....	181
12 The Forensics of a Challenged Initiative
Paul Jackson, Jane Klobas, Gaela Bernini, Ivan Jensen, Stefano Renzi..	197
13 Tools and Capabilities for Becoming Virtual
Paul Jackson and Jane Klobas	215
Appendix 1: Virtuality Indicators	227
Appendix 2: Baseline Virtuality at Unit 2	235
Appendix 3: Virtuality After One Year	241
Appendix 4: Capability Indicators.....	245
Appendix 5: Baseline Capabilities for Virtualization.....	249
Appendix 6: Capabilities After One Year	253
Appendix 7: Exercises for an Envisioning Workshop	257
Appendix 8: Questions for Exploring TMS.....	263
Appendix 9: Measuring ICT Value and Accessibility	265
Appendix 10: TPC Network Infrastructure	267