

Table of contents

Preface and Acknowledgements.....	9
Introduction.....	13
Avowing Truth: A Theological Impasse? .....	13
Contouring Truth-Telling .....	18
Navigating Truth-Telling Hermeneutically .....	20
PART ONE.....	25
1 Contextual Challenges of Truth-Telling for Justice .....	26
1.1 Introduction .....	26
1.2 A Commission for Truth .....	27
1.3 Truth and the Dutch Reformed Church .....	28
1.4 Truth and Truthfulness as a Philosophical Problem .....	34
1.5 Biblical Grammars of Truth .....	40
1.6 Justice as Challenge: “Which Justice? Whose justice?” .....	46
1.7 Doing Public Theology in South Africa .....	49
1.8 Conclusion .....	57
PART TWO.....	58
2 Enacting Truth? Transitional Justice in South Africa .....	59
2.1 Introduction .....	59
2.2 Ascribing Truth for Justice: A Commission for
Truth and Reconciliation .....	63
Introduction .....	63
Transitional Justice .....	65
Ascribing Truth Through a Commission .....	73
TRC Origins .....	75
“The Promotion of National Unity and Reconciliation Act” .....	79

Amnesty-for-truth .....	83
Restorative Justice .....	88
The Political use of Reconciliation .....	90
Moral Foundations .....	99
Ascribing Truth Retrospectively.....	104
Conclusion.....	112
2.3 Constituting Truthfulness for Justice: TRC Operations.....	113
Introduction: The TRC as Process.....	114
Timeframe.....	114
Power(s).....	116
Leadership .....	116
Subjects .....	118
Committees.....	120
The Official Report.....	125
Religion.....	130
Conclusion.....	138
2.4 Embodying Truth-Telling for Justice: The TRC as ‘ simulacrum ’?.....	139
2.5 Conclusion.....	142
3 Michel Foucault’s Regime of Truth-Telling .....	147
3.1 Introduction.....	147
3.2 Foucauldian Contours.....	149
Introduction.....	149
Dealing with the Problematic of Truth.....	150
“Alethic” turn.....	152
Truth, and Criminal Justice .....	155
Truth, and Power.....	156
Truth and Subjectivity.....	157
Christian Theology .....	158
Limitations and Critiques.....	163
Conclusion.....	163
3.3 Wrong-Doing, Truth-Telling: The Function of Avowal in Justice.....	164
Introduction.....	164
Truth-Telling as Avowal.....	167
Ascribing Truth: The Subject and Subjectivity.....	170

Constituting Truthfulness: The Power of Avowal.....	172
Embodying Truth-Telling: Confession as Truth-Act .....	174
Conclusion.....	175
3.4 Foucault and Transitional Justice in South Africa.....	176
Introduction.....	176
The Place and Role of Avowal in the TRC.....	177
Avowal and Individual Responsibility.....	180
Conclusion.....	182
3.5 Conclusion.....	182
PART THREE.....	184
4 Enacting Truth? Reformed Public Theologies in South Africa .....	185
4.1 Introduction.....	185
4.2 Ascribing Truth for Justice: Theological Foundations .....	187
Introduction.....	187
Ascribing Truth as Public Morality .....	188
Confessional Documents .....	194
Reformed: Unique and Ecumenical ? .....	199
Connecting Truth and Confession.....	201
Conclusion.....	206
4.3 Constituting Truthfulness for Justice: Contextual Contours .....	206
Introduction.....	207
Post-apartheid? .....	207
Transitioning Theologically.....	208
Truthfulness and Justice .....	212
Conclusion .....	216
4.4 Embodying Truth-telling for Justice: Confession.....	217
Introduction .....	217
Pre-TRC .....	218
Confession at the Truth and Reconciliation Commission .....	226
Contours of Collective Confessions .....	231
Conclusion.....	237
4.5 Conclusion.....	238

5	Dietrich Bonhoeffer's Office of Truth-telling.....	240
5.1	Introduction.....	240
5.2	Bonhoefferian Contours.....	242
5.3	What does it mean to tell the truth?.....	252
	Introduction.....	252
	Background and Context.....	252
	Ascribing Truth: Christ-reality.....	257
	Constituting Truthfulness: Re-imaginings of Jesus Christ.....	260
	Embodying Truth-Telling: Becoming Guilty .....	265
	Conclusion.....	267
5.4	Bonhoeffer and Public Theologies in South Africa.....	268
	Introduction.....	268
	Bonhoeffer Reception in South Africa.....	269
	Truth-Telling as Confession in Bonhoeffer .....	280
	Conclusion.....	289
5.5	Conclusion.....	290
	PART FOUR .....	293
6	Contours of a Theological Hermeneutic of Truth-Telling.....	294
6.1	Introduction.....	294
6.2	Truth and truthfulness in transitional justice in South Africa .....	295
6.3	Truth and truthfulness in Reformed public theologies in South Africa .....	297
6.4	Truth-telling as a function of truth and truthfulness in transitional justice.....	299
6.5	Future research possibilities for the Dutch Reformed Church .....	305
	Conclusion .....	315
	Bibliography.....	319